Background

The Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4)) requires the Department to publish in the Federal Register this notice of a new system of records. The Department's regulations implementing the Privacy Act of 1974 are contained in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) in 34 CFR part 5b.

This system of records is being developed to comply with the Federal Claims Collection Act of 1966, Debt Collection Act of 1982, and the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996. The information collected in the Receivables Management System is to aid in the collection of funds due to the Department. Information in the system includes the name of debtor, address,

Social Security Number, loan or case number or other debt identifier, telephone number, account history and supporting documents. The Department intends to use the information to notify a debtor of his or her liability to the Government and to take other actions to service the debt. The debt servicing staff of the Financial Improvement and Receivables Group, Office of the Chief Financial Officer, and its private contractors will have access to the information collected. Direct access is restricted to authorized agency and contractor staff in the performance of their official duties. The information will be kept in metal file drawers and computers in a secured building. All physical access to the sites of the contractor and the Department of Education where this system of records is maintained, is controlled and monitored by security personnel who check each individual entering the building for an employee's or a visitor's badge.

The computer system employed by the Department offers a high degree of resistance to tampering and circumvention. This security system limits data access to the Department and contract staff on a "need to know" basis, and controls individual users' ability to access and alter records within the system. All users of this system are given a unique user ID with a personal identifier. All interactions by individual users with the system are recorded.
