THIRTY-SEVENTH QUARTERLY REPORT ON ACTIONS TAKEN BY THE DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY TO RETAIN IIM-RELATED DOCUMENTS NECESSARY FOR AN ACCOUNTING

Cobell v. Salazar

March 2, 2009

This is the Thirty-Seventh Quarterly Report filed by the Department of the Treasury (“Treasury”) pursuant to the Court’s December 21, 1999 Order (“Order”) in the above-captioned case. It covers activities occurring over a three-month period from December 1, 2008 through February 28, 2009. The Order requires Treasury to report on the steps it has taken since the last quarterly report to preserve IIM-related documents.

Treasury continues to preserve IIM-related documentation pursuant to the Court’s August 12, 1999 Order, which defines the trust records that Treasury must retain. During the past quarter, Treasury again issued reminders to ensure the retention of required records. The reminders Treasury issued include letters reminding banks (see Attachments A and B), the Secret Service (see Attachment C), the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) (see Attachments D and E), and employees of the Financial Management Service (FMS) and the Bureau of the Public Debt (BPD) (see Attachments F and G) to continue preserving records related to this litigation. Retention instructions to pertinent Departmental Office (DO) employees continue to be posted on DO’s intranet site (see Attachment H).

On Tuesday, December 16, 2008, the Office of Chief Counsel at FMS provided a litigation discussion session to the FMS Executive Board, providing an update to senior officials on litigation and reminding senior officials of the specific document retention requirements that apply to FMS and of the continuing obligation to preserve certain materials.

Dear Mr. Stenger:

Salazar, et al.* and various cases brought by Indian tribes to retain, indefinitely, "every document, [datum/data] or tangible thing ... containing information that is relevant to, or is reasonably calculated to lead to discovery of admissible evidence relevant to, the subject matter involved in pending litigation." Subject: Cobell and Tribal Litigation – FMS Retention Requirements

All FMS employees are again reminded that FMS remains subject to continuing court orders and Treasury directives, requiring us to retain and safeguard all documents, data and tangible things that relate to Individual Indian Money (IIM) and Tribal trust funds and assets, indefinitely.

To ensure that we remain in compliance with all court orders and directives, please continue to adhere to the following FMS requirements:

Do not destroy any documents, data or tangible things unless you received written approval from the Chief Counsel. This rule applies to all documents, data and tangible things, whether litigation-related or not. Prepare a disposition request, following the instructions contained in the Chief Counsel's March 7, 2000 memorandum entitled "Process for Obtaining Disposition Approval" (posted on the FMS intranet on the "Cobell/Tribal Litigation" page). The only exception to this rule is for "obvious non-record materials," as described in the attached "Quick Reference Guide."

Continue copying or forwarding all Cobell-related and Tribal-related e-mail and other electronic documents to their respective dedicated mailboxes ("Cobell Archive@fms" for IIM-related e-mail/electronic documents and "Tribal Mailbox@fms" for Tribal-related e-mail/electronic documents). To insert a mailbox address on an e-mail, simply type "Cobell" or "Tribal" and press the "Enter" key. You may delete your copy of any e-mail or other electronic document sent to these mailboxes.

Promptly forward any voicemail messages that relate to any tribe to FMS' dedicated "Tribal" voicemail repository. Following are step-by-step instructions for forwarding voicemail messages to the repository: Press "1" after (or while listening to) a new or saved message; Then press "2" to forward with comment; Voice a comment to include (1) the tribe's name when applicable, e.g., "Message for Tribal mailbox-Crow tribe," (2) the identity of the caller, (3) the time and date of the message, (4) the duration of the message, and (5) the caller's extension, and press #;

Enter extension 91313, and press #;

After the prompts, press #, and then press # again to send (forward).

Do not archive (move) data from any FMS electronic production systems that contain litigation-related data, except pursuant to a written preservation proposal that has been approved by the Commissioner's Office. Please refer to the Deputy Commissioner's March 24, 2000 memorandum entitled "Maintenance of Data on FMS Systems" (posted on the FMS intranet on the "Cobell/Tribal Litigation" page) for more information about this requirement.

Do not attempt to give guidance on record retention matters to Federal Reserve Bank or financial institutions personnel. Please refer all such questions to Rebecca Saltiel at (202) 874-6648.

I appreciate your continued compliance with these instructions and encourage you to review the pertinent memoranda posted on the FMS intranet. To locate the memoranda, double click on the icon to launch Internet Explorer. This brings you to the FMS intranet. Under "Hot Topics", click on "Cobell/Tribal Litigation."

If you have questions or need assistance regarding any of these retention requirements, please do not hesitate to contact Rebecca Saltiel at (202) 874-6648 or Matthew Fineout at (202) 874-6813.

Thank you.

Please refer any inquiries from FRB personnel regarding record retention to Jimmy Phillips at (202) 504-3683, fax number (202) 504-3630. Don't attempt to give guidance on record retention matters to any FRB employee.

I appreciate your continued compliance with these instructions and encourage you to occasionally review the pertinent memoranda and e-mails, which are posted on PD Web under the Office of the Chief Counsel's (OCC) website. Just click on the office link "OCC" and then click on " Cabell v. Salazar, " which appears in the "Litigation" section.

Litigation Obligations and Directives

Office of the General Counsel

Directive From General Counsel To All Departmental Offices Employees Concerning Cobell Litigation

By order of the Court in Cobell v. Norton, Departmental Offices employees must preserve all documents and records, whether in paper, electronic, or other form, that are relevant to any aspect of the government's responsibilities with respect to the individual Indian money trust. Such responsibilities include, but are not limited to, management, administration, collection, disbursement, investment, and accounting of trust funds.

To comply with the various court orders to which we are subject in Cobell v. Norton, to make it easier to manage and retrieve electronic mail as needed, and to help ensure that our electronic mail will continue to operate, I am requesting that you do the following things:

Step One: Search for Previous E-Mails You Have Sent or Received

Search your e-mail, including "Inbox," "Drafts," "Message Log," and all "Folders" and "Archives," for anything that relates in any way to the Cobell litigation, Individual Indian Monies, or Department of Interior investments on behalf of individual Indians. Forward any e-mails that you find on this subject (including attachments and retaining forwarding history) to "Cobell" or Cobell@do.treas.gov. In an effort to manage electronic mail, we have created this dedicated mailbox for Cobell-related and/or discussions relating to Individual Indian Money account.

Step Two: E-Mails That You Send in the Future

Beginning immediately, send a "cc" (not a "bcc") of all e-mails (including attachments) that you initiate, that relate in any way to the Cobell litigation, Individual Indian Monies or Department of Interior investments on behalf of individual Indians, to "Cobell."

Step Three: E-Mails That You Receive in the Future

MEMORANDUM TO ALL DEPARTMENTAL OFFICES EMPLOYEES

FROM: ROBERT F. HOYT

SUBJECT: Obligation to Retain Materials for Indian Litigation

The Department of the Treasury remains involved in numerous lawsuits filed by Native American individuals and tribes alleging that the U.S. Government owes an accounting for their trust funds or has mismanaged their trust funds and property. To ensure compliance with court retention orders and other litigation responsibilities, Departmental Offices employees must retain all materials – whether in paper, electronic (including e-mail or voice-mail), or tangible form -- that meet any of the criteria described below. These criteria are broader than legally required and are designed only for Departmental Offices materials.

1. Materials that mention or relate to Individual Indian Money or Individual Indian Money accounts.
2. Materials that mention or relate to tribal funds or tribal fund accounts. For example, material relating to the depositing, investing, disbursing, or accounting of tribal funds must be retained.
3. Materials that mention or relate to any delay between the issuance of government checks and the redemption of investments in government accounts to cover those checks -- sometimes called "check float." This criterion is not limited to Indian or tribal trust funds.

Attached are instructions for retaining e-mails and voice-mails by forwarding them to dedicated mailboxes.

You are required to retain these materials until further notice from this Office. If you have questions regarding the retention of particular materials, please contact Peter Bieger, Deputy Assistant General Counsel (Banking and Finance) at (202) 622-1975. The retention orders from Cobell v. Kempthorne and the tribal trust lawsuits are located on Treasury's intranet at <http://home.do.treas.gov/litigations> and are incorporated herein by reference. This memorandum takes the place of earlier instructions issued in connection with the Cobell and tribal trust lawsuits. Thank you for your continued attention to this important matter.

Attachment: Instructions for using the dedicated Cobell and tribal mailboxes for retaining e-mails and voice mails.

2. Forward any e-mail that you receive, or have previously received and not already forwarded, (including attachments and retaining forwarding history) that relate in any way to Individual Indian Money or Individual Indian Money accounts, to the dedicated e-mailbox at the following mailbox address: cobell@do.treas.gov or just Cobell, unless you can tell from the message that the e-mail has already been sent to the dedicated e-mailbox.
