SUMMARY: The General Services Administration (GSA) is adding coverage on real property policies to the Federal Management Regulation (FMR). A section has been added to each affected Federal Property Management Regulations (FPMR) part to direct readers to the additional policy coverage contained in the FMR. The FMR coverage is written in plain language to provide agencies with updated regulatory material that is easy to read and understand.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 18, 2001.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Stanley C. Langfeld, Director, Real Property Policy Division, at (202) 501–1737.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

This final rule describes the current real property policies applicable to GSA and Federal agencies to whom GSA real property authority has been delegated. The policies contained in this rule reflect the way that real property operations are currently conducted and these policies have been separated from their procedural components resulting in a more efficient and easy to understand regulation.

The policies contained in this rule were published as a proposed rule at 62 FR 42444, August 7, 1997. GSA received several comments on the proposed rule. The comments were from an individual, special interest groups, and Federal agencies. All comments were considered in the formulation of the final rule. GSA believes the final regulation is responsive to the concerns raised by all parties providing comments.

B. Executive Order 12866

The General Services Administration (GSA) has determined that this final rule is not a significant regulatory action for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act

This final rule is not required to be published in the Federal Register for comment. Therefore, the Regulatory Flexibility Act does not apply.

D. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act does not apply because this final rule does not impose reporting, recordkeeping or information collection requirements which require the approval of the Office of Management and Budget pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

E. Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

This final rule is also exempt from Congressional review prescribed under 5 U.S.C. 801 since it relates solely to agency management and personnel.

§ 102-72.5 What is the scope of this part?

The real property policies contained in this part apply to Federal agencies, including the GSA/Public Buildings Service (PBS), operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services.

§ 102-72.10 What basic policy governs delegation of authority to Federal agencies?

The Administrator of General Services may delegate and may authorize successive redelegations of the real property authority vested in the Administrator to any Federal agency.

§ 102-72.15 What criteria must a delegation meet?

Delegations must be in the Government's best interest, which means that GSA must evaluate such factors as whether a delegation would be cost effective for the Government in the delivery of space.

§ 102-72.20 Are there limitations on this delegation of authority?

Federal agencies must exercise delegated real property authority and functions according to the parameters described in each delegation of authority document, and Federal agencies may only exercise the authority of the Administrator that is specifically provided within the delegation of authority document.

§ 102-72.25 What are the different types of delegations of authority?

The basic types of GSA Delegations of Authority are:

- (a) Delegation of Leasing Authority;

(b) The Administrator of General Services has issued a standing delegation of authority (under a program known as "Can't Beat GSA Leasing") to the heads of all Federal agencies to accomplish all functions relating to leasing of general purpose space for terms of up to 20 years regardless of geographic location. This delegation includes some conditions Federal agencies must meet when conducting the procurement themselves, such as training in lease contracting and reporting data to GSA.

(c) An Administrative Contracting Officer (ACO) delegation, in addition to lease management authority, provides Federal agencies with limited contracting officer authority to perform such duties as paying and withholding lessor rent and modifying lease provisions that don't change the lease term length or the amount of space under lease.

§ 102-72.35 What are the requirements for obtaining an ACO delegation from GSA?

When Federal agencies don't exercise the delegation of authority for general purpose space mentioned in § 102-72.30(b), GSA may consider granting an ACO delegation when Federal agencies:

(a) Occupy at least 90 percent of the building's GSA-controlled space or Federal agencies have the written concurrence of 100 percent of rent-paying occupants covered under the lease; and

(b) Have the technical capability to perform the leasing function.

§ 102-72.40 What are facility management delegations?

Facility management delegations give Executive agencies authority to operate and manage buildings day to day, to perform individual repair and alteration projects and manage real property leases.

§ 102-72.45 What are the different types of delegations related to facility management?

The principal types of delegations involved in the management of facilities are:

(a) Real property management and operation authority;

(b) Individual repair and alteration project authority; and

(c) Lease management authority (contracting officer representative authority).

§ 102-72.50 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a delegation of real property management and operation authority from GSA?

With this delegation, Executive agencies have the authority to operate and manage buildings day to day. Delegated functions may include building operations, maintenance, recurring repairs, minor alterations, historic preservation, concessions, and energy management of specified buildings subject to the conditions in the delegation document.

§ 102-72.55 What are the requirements for obtaining a delegation of real property management and operation authority from GSA?

An Executive agency may be delegated real property management and operation authority when it:

(a) Occupies at least 90 percent of the space in the Government-controlled facility or has the concurrence of 100 percent of the rent-paying occupants to perform these functions; and

(b) Demonstrates that it can perform the delegated real property management and operation responsibilities.

§ 102-72.60 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a delegation of individual repair and alteration project authority from GSA?

With this delegation of authority, Executive agencies have the responsibility to perform individual repair and alterations projects. Executive agencies are delegated repair and alterations authority for reimbursable space alteration projects up to the simplified acquisition threshold, under § 101-20.106 of this title.

§ 102-72.65 What are the requirements for obtaining a delegation of individual repair and alteration project authority from GSA?

Executive agencies may be delegated repair and alterations authority for other individual alteration projects when they demonstrate the ability to perform the delegated repair and alterations responsibilities and when such a delegation promotes efficiency and economy.

§ 102-72.70 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a delegation of lease management authority (contracting officer representative authority) from GSA?

When an Executive agency does not exercise the delegation of authority mentioned in § 102-72.30(b) to lease general purpose space itself, it may be delegated, upon request, lease management authority to manage the administration of one or more lease contracts awarded by GSA.

§ 102-72.75 What are the requirements for obtaining a delegation of lease management authority (contracting officer representative authority) from GSA?

An Executive agency may be delegated lease management authority when it:

(a) Occupies at least 90 percent of the building's GSA-controlled space or has the written concurrence of 100 percent of rent-paying occupants covered under the lease to perform this function; and

(b) Demonstrates the ability to perform the delegated lease management responsibilities.

§ 102-72.80 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a disposal of real property delegation of authority from GSA?

With this delegation, Executive agencies have the authority to utilize and dispose of excess or surplus real and related personal property and to grant approvals and make determinations subject to the conditions in the delegation document.

§ 102-72.85 What are the requirements for obtaining a disposal of real property delegation of authority from GSA?

While disposal delegations to Executive agencies are infrequent, GSA may delegate authority to them based on situations involving certain low-value properties and when they can demonstrate that they have the technical expertise to perform the disposition functions. GSA may grant special delegations of authority to Executive agencies for the utilization and disposal of certain real property through the procedures set forth in part 101-47, subpart 101-47.6, of this title.

§ 102-72.90 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a security delegation of authority from GSA?

With a security delegation, Executive agencies have the authority and responsibility to protect persons and property at the locations identified in the delegation document.

§ 102-72.95 What are the requirements for obtaining a security delegation of authority from GSA?

Executive agencies may be delegated security authority when any of the following conditions exist:

(a) A clear and unique security requirement;

(c) An intelligence or law enforcement mission; or

(d) The current security contractor is ineffective.

§ 102-72.100 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities under a utility service delegation of authority from GSA?

With this delegation, Executive agencies have the authority to negotiate and execute utility services contracts for periods over one year but not exceeding ten years for their use and benefit. Agencies also have the authority to intervene in utility rate proceedings to represent the consumer interests of the Federal Government, if so provided in the delegation of authority.

§ 102-72.105 What are the requirements for obtaining a utility services delegation of authority from GSA?

Executive agencies may be delegated utility services authority when they

Yes, after considering the availability of GSA-controlled space, Federal agencies must extend priority consideration to available space in buildings under the custody and control of the United States Postal Service (USPS) in fulfilling Federal agency space needs.

§ 102-73.30 On what basis must Federal agencies acquire leases?

Federal agencies must acquire leases on the most favorable basis to the Federal Government, with due consideration to maintenance and operational efficiency, and at charges consistent with prevailing market rates for comparable facilities in the community.

§ 102-73.35 Are Executive agencies required to acquire leased space by negotiation?

Yes, Executive agencies must acquire leased space by negotiation, except where the sealed bid procedure is required by the Competition in Contracting Act of 1984 (CICA), as amended (41 U.S.C. 253(a)). See also 40

U.S.C. 618(b) with respect to the use of competitive procedures for the acquisition of leaseholds in buildings constructed for Federal Government use.

§ 102-73.40 Is the CICA applicable to lease acquisition?

Yes, Executive agencies must obtain full and open competition among suitable locations meeting minimum Government requirements, except as otherwise provided by CICA.

§ 102-73.45 What policy must Executive agencies comply with in locating Federal facilities?

When acquiring space by lease, Executive agencies must comply with the location policies in § 101-17.205 and § 102-79.90 (E.O. 13006 (61 FR 26071, 3 CFR, 1996 Comp., p. 195)) of this title.

§ 102-73.50 What historic preservation provisions must Federal agencies comply with when acquiring space by lease?

When acquiring space by lease, Federal agencies must comply with the provisions of section 110(a) of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended, (16 U.S.C. 470h-2(a)), regarding the use of historic properties.

§ 102-73.55 With whom may Federal agencies enter into lease agreements?

Federal agencies, upon approval from GSA, may enter into lease agreements with any person, copartnership, corporation, or other public or private entity, which do not bind the Government for periods in excess of twenty years (40 U.S.C. 490(h)(1)). This policy does not include persons who might otherwise be barred from contracting with the Federal Government (e.g., debarred or suspended contractors or Members of Congress).

§ 102-73.60 Are there any limitations on leasing certain space?

Yes, the limitations on leasing certain space are as follows:

(a) In general, Federal agencies may not lease any space to accommodate computer and telecommunications operations; secure or sensitive activities related to the national defense or security; or a permanent courtroom, judicial chamber, or administrative office for any United States court, if the average annual net rental cost of leasing such space would exceed the prospectus threshold (40 U.S.C. 606(e)).

(b) Federal agencies may lease such space only if the Administrator of General Services first determines that leasing such space is necessary to meet requirements which cannot be met in public buildings and submits such reasons to the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate and the Committee on Public Works and Transportation of the House of Representatives in accordance with 40 U.S.C. 606(e).

§ 102-73.65 When may Federal agencies consider acquiring leases with purchase options?

Agencies may consider leasing with a purchase option at or below fair market value when one or more of the following conditions exist:

- (a) The purchase option offers economic and other advantages to the Government and is consistent with the Government's goals;
- (b) The Government is the sole or major tenant of the building, and has a long-term need for the property; or
- (c) Leasing with a purchase option is otherwise in the best interest of the Government.

§ 102-73.70 What scoring rules must Federal agencies follow when considering leases and leases with purchase options?

All Federal agencies must follow the budget scorekeeping rules for leases, capital leases, and lease-purchases identified in appendices A and B of OMB Circular A-11 (For availability, see 5 CFR 1310.3).

§ 102-73.75 When may Federal agencies consider purchase of buildings?

Agencies may consider purchase of buildings on a case-by-case basis when one or more of the following conditions exist:

- (a) It is economically more beneficial to own and manage the property;
- (b) There is a long-term need for the property;
- (c) The property is an existing building, or a building nearing completion, that can be purchased and occupied within a reasonable time; or
- (d) When otherwise in the best interests of the Government.

§ 102-73.80 What factors must Executive agencies consider when purchasing sites?

Agencies must locate proposed Federal buildings on sites that are most advantageous to the United States. Executive agencies must consider factors such as whether the site will contribute to economy and efficiency in the construction, maintenance and operation of the individual building, and how the proposed site relates to the Government's total space needs in the community. Prior to acquiring, constructing or leasing buildings (or sites for such buildings), Federal agencies must use, to the maximum extent feasible, historic properties available to the agency. In site selections, Executive agencies must consider Executive Orders 12072 (3 CFR, 1978 Comp., p. 213) and 13006 (40 U.S.C. 601a note). In addition, Executive agencies must consider all of the following:

(a) Maximum utilization of Government-owned land (including excess land) whenever it is adequate, economically adaptable to requirements and properly located, where such use is consistent with the provisions of part 101-47, subpart 101-47.8, of this title.

(b) A site adjacent to or in the proximity of an existing Federal building which is well located and is to be retained for long-term occupancy.

(c) The environmental condition of proposed sites prior to purchase: The sites must be free from contamination, unless it is otherwise determined to be in the best interests of the Government to purchase a contaminated site (e.g., reuse of a site under an established "Brownsfields" program).

(d) Purchase options to secure the future availability of a site.

(e) All applicable policies concerning the location of Federal facilities (e.g., to give first priority to locating facilities in rural areas under the Rural Development Act (7 U.S.C. 2204b-1)).

§ 102-73.85 What land acquisition policy must Federal agencies follow?

Federal agencies must follow a land acquisition policy that:

- (a) Encourages and expedites the acquisition of real property by agreements with owners;
- (b) Avoids litigation, including condemnation actions, where possible and relieves congestion in the courts;
- (c) Provides for consistent treatment of owners; and
- (d) Promotes public confidence in Federal land acquisition practices.

§ 102-73.90 What relocation assistance policy must Federal agencies follow?

Federal agencies, upon approval from GSA, must provide appropriate relocation assistance under the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act (42 U.S.C. 4651-4655) to eligible owners and tenants of property purchased for use by Federal agencies. Appropriate relocation assistance means that the Federal agency must pay the displaced person for actual reasonable moving expenses (in moving himself, his family, business, etc.); actual direct losses of tangible personal property as a result of moving or discontinuing a business; actual reasonable expenses in searching for a replacement business or farm; and actual reasonable expenses necessary to reestablish a displaced farm, nonprofit organization, or small business at its new site, but not to exceed $10,000. The implementing regulations are found in 49 CFR part 24 (see § 105-51.000 of this title).

§ 102-73.95 Is a prospectus required for all acquisition, construction or alteration projects?

(a) No, a prospectus is not required if the dollar value of a project does not exceed the prospectus threshold. The Public Buildings Act of 1959, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 601-619, establishes a prospectus threshold, applicable to Federal agencies operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services, for the construction, alteration, purchase, and acquisition of any building to be used as a public building, and establishes a prospectus threshold to lease any space for use for public purposes. (Because of the important role the prospectus approval process plays in the budget preparation and planning process and with Congressional oversight responsibilities, Federal agencies must continue to prepare and submit prospectuses for all projects that exceed the prospectus threshold identified in § 102-73.55. All GSA delegations of leasing, alteration, and construction authority are subject to this policy.)

(b) Public Law 104-66, 109 Stat. 734, eliminated the prospectus submission requirement of the Public Buildings Act of 1959 (40 U.S.C. 606(a) and 610(b)).

§ 102-73.100 What happens if the project exceeds the prospectus threshold?

Such projects require approval by the Senate and the House of Representatives if the dollar value exceeds the prospectus threshold. In order to obtain this approval, prospectuses for such projects must be submitted to GSA and the Administrator of General Services will transmit the proposed prospectuses to Congress for consideration by the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Authority: 40 U.S.C. 486(c); E.O. 12191, 45 FR 7997, 3 CFR, 1980 Comp., p 138.

§ 102-74.5 What is the scope of this part?

The real property policies contained in this part apply to Federal agencies, including the GSA/Public Buildings Service (PBS), operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services.

§ 102-74.10 What is the basic facility management policy?

Executive agencies must manage, operate, and maintain Government-owned and leased buildings in a manner that provides for quality space and services consistent with their operational needs and that accomplish overall Government objectives. The management, operation, and maintenance of buildings and building systems must:

- (a) Be cost effective and energy efficient;
- (b) Be adequate to meet the agencies' missions;
- (c) Meet nationally recognized standards; and
- (d) Be at an appropriate level to maintain and preserve the physical plant assets, consistent with available funding.

§ 102-74.15 What are occupancy services?

Occupancy services are:

- (a) Building services (see § 102-74.30);
- (b) Concession services; and
- (c) Conservation programs.

§ 102-74.20 What responsibilities do Executive agencies have regarding occupancy services?

Executive agencies, upon approval from GSA, must manage, administer, and enforce the requirements of agreements (such as Memoranda of Understanding, etc.) and contracts that provide for the delivery of occupancy services.

§ 102-74.25 What standard in providing occupancy services must Executive agencies follow?

Executive agencies must provide occupancy services that substantially conform to nationally recognized standards. As needed, Executive agencies may adopt other standards for buildings and services in Federally-controlled facilities in order to conform to statutory requirements and to implement cost-reduction efforts.

§ 102-74.30 What building services must Executive agencies provide?

Executive agencies, upon approval from GSA, must provide:

(a) Building services such as custodial, solid waste management (including recycling), heating and cooling, landscaping and grounds maintenance, tenant alterations, minor repairs, building maintenance, integrated pest management, signage, parking, and snow removal, at appropriate levels to support Federal agency missions; and

(b) Arrangements for raising and lowering the United States flags at appropriate times. In addition, agencies must display P.O.W. and M.I.A. flags at locations specified in 36 U.S.C. 189a on P.O.W./M.I.A. flag display days.

§ 102-74.35 What are concessions services?

Concessions services are services such as dry cleaners, gift shops, vending facilities (onsite preparation facilities, prepackaged facilities, sundry facilities, and vending machines), cafeterias, employee health units, and public pay telephones.

§ 102-74.40 When must Federal agencies provide concessions services?

Federal agencies, upon approval from GSA, must provide concessions services where building population supports such services and when the availability of existing commercial services is insufficient to meet Federal agency needs. See the Randolph-Sheppard Act, as amended, 20 U.S.C. 107 et seq., and part 101-20, subpart 101-20.2, of this title.

§ 102-74.45 Are Federal agencies required to give blind vendors priority in operating vending facilities?

With certain exceptions, the Randolph-Sheppard Act requires that blind persons licensed under the provisions of the Act be authorized to operate vending facilities on any Federal property, including leased buildings. The Act imposes a positive obligation on Federal agencies to have suitable sites for vending facilities in buildings that they acquire.

§ 102-74.50 What are conservation programs?

Conservation programs are programs that improve energy and water efficiency and promote the use of solar and other renewable energy. These programs must promote and maintain an effective source reduction activity (reducing consumption of resources such as energy, water and paper), resource recovery activity (obtaining materials from the waste stream that can be recycled into new products), and reuse activity (reusing same product before disposition, such as reusing unneeded memos for scratch paper).

§ 102-74.55 What are asset services?

Asset services include repairs (as opposed to those minor repairs identified in § 102-74.30(a)), alterations, and modernizations for real property assets. Typically, these are the type of repairs and alterations necessary to preserve or enhance the value of the real property asset.

§ 102-74.60 What asset services must Executive agencies provide?

Executive agencies, upon approval from GSA, must provide asset services such as repairs (in addition to those minor repairs identified in § 102-74.30(a)), alterations, and modernizations for real property assets. Federal agencies must follow the prospectus submission and approval policy identified in §§ 102-73.95 and 102-73.100.

§ 102-74.65 What standard in providing asset services must Executive agencies follow?

Executive agencies must provide asset services that maintain continuity of Government operations, continue efficient building operations, extend the useful life of buildings and related building systems, and provide a quality workplace environment that enhances employee productivity.

§ 102-74.70 What Federal facility ridesharing policy must Executive agencies follow?

Executive agencies must actively promote the use of ridesharing

(carpools, vanpools, privately leased buses, public transportation, and other multi-occupancy modes of travel) by personnel working at Federal facilities to conserve energy, reduce congestion, improve air quality, and provide an economical way for Federal employees to commute to work.

§ 102-74.75 What steps must Executive agencies take to promote ridesharing at Federal facilities?

Agencies must:

- (a) Establish an annual ridesharing goal for each facility.
- (b) Report to the Administrator of General Services by June 1 of each year the goals established, the means developed to achieve those goals, and the progress achieved.
- (c) Cooperate with State and local ridesharing agencies where such agencies exist.

§ 102-74.80 What specific ridesharing information must Executive agencies report to the Administrator of General Services?

The head of each agency must submit to GSA by June 1 of each year a report which includes all of the following:

- (a) The name, address, title, and telephone number of the agencywide Employee Transportation Coordinator (ETC).
- (b) A narrative on actions taken and barriers encountered in promoting ridesharing within the agency.
- (c) Information on any noticeable facility achievements.
- (d) A copy of instructions issued to the agency's facility ETC's for implementing the Federal Facility Ridesharing Program.

§ 102-74.85 Where should Executive agencies send their Federal Facility Ridesharing Reports?

Agencies must send their Federal Facility Ridesharing Reports to the Real Property Policy Division (MPR), General Services Administration, 1800 F Street, NW., Washington, DC 20405.

§ 102-74.90 Are there any exceptions to these ridesharing reporting requirements?

Yes, facilities with less than 100 full-time employees or less than 100 full-time employees on the largest shift are not required to submit an annual report. Agencies must not subdivide buildings, groups of buildings, or worksites for the purpose of meeting the exception standards.

- 102-75.95 Are appraisals required for all real property disposal transactions?
- 102-75.100 Who must appraise the real property?

Authority: 40 U.S.C. 486(c), 483(a), and 484; E.O. 12512, 50 FR 18453, 3 CFR, 1985 Comp., p. 340.

§ 102-75.5 What is the scope of this part?

The real property policies contained in this part apply to Federal agencies, including the GSA/Public Buildings Service (PBS), operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services.

§ 102-75.10 What basic real property disposal policy governs Executive agencies?

Executive agencies must provide, in a timely, efficient, and cost effective manner, the full range of real estate services necessary to support their real property utilization and disposal needs. Landholding agencies must make surveys of real property under their jurisdiction to identify property that is unused, underutilized, or not being put to optimum use. Executive agencies must have adequate procedures in place to promote the effective utilization and disposal of such real property.

§ 102-75.15 What real property disposal services must Executive agencies provide?

Executive agencies must provide real property disposal services for real property assets under their custody and control. These real property disposal services include utilization of excess property, surveys, disposal of surplus property, public benefit conveyances, negotiated sales, public sales, related disposal services, and appraisals.

§ 102-75.20 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning the utilization of excess property?

Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning the utilization of excess property are to:

- (a) Increase the identification and reporting of their excess real property;
- (b) Achieve maximum use of their excess real property, in terms of economy and efficiency, to minimize expenditures for the purchase of real property;
- (c) Provide for the transfer of excess real property among Federal agencies, to mixed-ownership Government corporations, and to the municipal government of the District of Columbia; and
- (d) Obtain assistance from GSA in resolving conflicting requests for transferring real property that the involved agencies cannot resolve.

§ 102-75.25 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning real property surveys?

A landholding agency's responsibilities concerning real property surveys are to:

- (a) Survey real property under its control (i.e., that property reported on its financial statements) at least annually to identify property that is not needed, underutilized, or not being put to optimum use. When other needs for the property are identified or recognized, the agency must determine whether continuation of the current use or another use would better serve the public interest, considering both the Federal agency's needs and the property's location. In conducting annual reviews of their property holdings, § 101-47.801(b) of this title and other applicable GSA regulations provide guidelines for Executive agencies to consider in identifying unneeded Federal real property;
- (b) Maintain its inventory of real property at the absolute minimum consistent with economical and efficient conduct of the affairs of the agency; and

(c) Promptly report to GSA real property that it has determined to be excess.

§ 102-75.30 When may landholding Federal agencies grant rights for non-Federal interim use of excess property reported to GSA?

Landholding Federal agencies may grant rights for non-Federal interim use of excess property reported to GSA, when it is determined that such excess property is not required for the needs of any Federal agency.

§ 102-75.35 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning the disposal of surplus property?

Executive agencies must obtain from GSA a determination that their excess real property is not needed for Federal use and is surplus to the needs of the Federal Government. After receiving this determination, Executive agencies, upon approval from GSA, must expeditiously make the surplus property available for acquisition by State and local governmental units and nonprofit institutions (see § 102-75.55) or for sale by public advertising, negotiation, or other disposal action. Executive agencies must consider the availability of real property for public purposes on a case-by-case basis, based on highest and best use and estimated fair market value. See § 101-47.202-2(b) of this title for the requirements for reporting excess real property. Where hazardous substance activity is identified, see § 101-47.304-14 of this title for required information that the disposal agency must incorporate into Invitation for Bids/Offer to Purchase.

§ 102-75.40 When may Executive agencies dispose of surplus real property by exchange for privately owned property?

Executive agencies may dispose of surplus real property by exchange for privately owned property only:

- (a) For property management considerations such as boundary realignment or provision of access; or
- (b) Where authorized by law, when the requesting Federal agency receives approval from the Office of Management and Budget and the appropriate oversight committees, and where the transaction offers substantial economic or unique program advantages not otherwise obtainable by any other acquisition method.

§ 102-75.45 When may Executive agencies outlease surplus real property for non-Federal interim use?

Executive agencies may outlease surplus real property for non-Federal interim use, pending its disposition, when both of the following conditions exist:

- (a) The lease or permit does not exceed one year and is revocable with not more than a 30-day notice by the disposal agency; and
- (b) The use and occupancy will not interfere with, delay, or impede the disposal of the property.

§ 102-75.50 What are Federal agencies' reporting responsibilities under the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11411)?

By December 31 of each year, each landholding agency responsible for reporting must notify the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) regarding the current availability status and classification of each property controlled by the agency that:

- (a) Was included in a list of suitable properties published that year by HUD; and
- (b) Remains available for application for use to assist the homeless, or has become available for application during that year.

§ 102-75.55 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning public benefit conveyances?

Based on a highest and best use analysis, Executive agencies, upon approval from GSA, may make surplus real property available to State and local governments and certain nonprofit institutions at up to 100 percent public benefit discount for public benefit purposes. Some examples of such purposes are education, health, park and recreation, the homeless, historic monuments, public airports, highways, correctional facilities, ports, and wildlife conservation. The implementing regulations are found at § 101-47.308 of this title.

§ 102-75.60 When may Executive agencies conduct negotiated sales?

Executive agencies may conduct negotiated sales only when:

- (a) The estimated fair market value of the property does not exceed $15,000; or
- (b) Bid prices after advertising are unreasonable (for all or part of the property) or were not independently arrived at in open competition; or
- (c) The character or condition of the property or unusual circumstances make it impractical to advertise for competitive bids and the fair market value of the property and other satisfactory terms of disposal are obtainable by negotiation; or
- (d) The disposals will be to States, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, possessions, political subdivisions thereof, or tax-supported agencies therein, and the estimated fair market value of the property and other satisfactory terms of disposal are obtainable by negotiations. Such negotiated sales to public bodies must be limited to where a public benefit will result from a negotiated sale which would not be realized from a competitive sale disposal (some examples of such purposes are administrative offices and economic development); or

(e) Negotiation is otherwise authorized by the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 or other law, such as disposals of power transmission lines for public or cooperative power projects.

§ 102-75.65 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning negotiated sales?

Executive agencies must:

- (a) Obtain such competition as is feasible in all negotiations of disposals and contracts for disposal of surplus property; and
- (b) Prepare and transmit an explanatory statement, identifying the circumstances of each disposal by negotiation for any real property specified in 40 U.S.C. 484(e)(6)(A), to the appropriate committees of the Congress in advance of such disposal.

§ 102-75.70 What can Executive agencies do to eliminate the potential for windfall profits to public agencies in negotiated sales?

To eliminate the potential for windfall profits to public agencies, Executive agencies must include in negotiated sales to public agencies an excess profits clause, which usually runs for 3 years. This clause states that, if the purchaser should sell or enter into agreements to sell the property within 3 years from the date of title transfer by the Federal Government, all proceeds in excess of the purchasers costs will be remitted to the Federal Government. (Put the clause found in § 101-47.4908 of this title in the offer to purchase and in the conveyance document.)

§ 102-75.75 What is a negotiated sale for economic development purposes?

A negotiated sale for economic development purposes means that the public body purchasing the property will develop or make substantial improvements to the property with the intention of reselling or leasing the property in parcels to users to advance the community's economic benefit. This type of negotiated sale is acceptable where the expected public benefits to the community are greater than the anticipated proceeds derived from a competitive public sale.

§ 102-75.80 What are Executive agencies' responsibilities concerning public sales?

Executive agencies must make available by competitive public sale any surplus property that is not disposed of by public benefit discount conveyance or by negotiated sale. Awards must be made to the responsible bidder whose bid will be most advantageous to the Government, price and other factors considered.

§ 102-75.85 How can Federal agencies obtain related disposal services?

Federal agencies with independent disposal authority are encouraged to obtain disposal related services from those agencies with expertise in real property disposal, such as GSA, as allowed by 31 U.S.C. 1535 (the Economy Act), so that agencies may remain focused on their core mission.

§ 102-75.90 What type of appraisal value must be obtained for real property disposal transactions?

For all real property transactions requiring appraisals, Executive agencies must in all cases obtain, as appropriate, an appraisal of either the fair market value or the fair annual rental value of property available for disposal.

§ 102-75.95 Are appraisals required for all real property disposal transactions?

Generally, yes, appraisals are required for all real property disposal transactions. However, appraisals are not required when either of the following conditions exist:

(a) An appraisal will serve no useful purpose (e.g., legislation authorizes conveyance without monetary consideration or at a fixed price). This exception does not apply to negotiated sales to public agencies intending to use the property for a public purpose not covered by any of the special disposal provisions in § 101-47.308 of this title.

(b) The estimated fair market value of property to be offered on a competitive sale basis does not exceed $50,000.

§ 102-75.100 Who must appraise the real property?

Executive agencies must use only experienced and qualified real estate appraisers familiar with types of property to be appraised when conducting the appraisal. When an appraisal is required for the purposes of disposing of surplus property by negotiation under § 102-75.60(c), (d), or (e), contract appraisers that meet this same standard must be used. However, Executive agencies may authorize any other method of obtaining an estimate of the fair market value or the fair annual rental when the cost of obtaining such data from a contract appraiser would be out of proportion to the expected recoverable value of the property.

The real property policies contained in this part apply to Federal agencies, including the GSA/Public Buildings Service (PBS), operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services.

§ 102-76.10 What basic design and construction policy governs Federal agencies?

Federal agencies, upon approval from GSA, are bound by the following basic design and construction policies:

(a) Provide the highest quality services for designing and constructing new Federal facilities and for repairing and altering existing Federal facilities. These services must be timely, efficient, and cost effective.

(b) Use a distinguished architectural style and form in Federal facilities that reflects the dignity, enterprise, vigor and stability of the Federal Government.

(c) Follow nationally recognized model building codes and other applicable nationally recognized codes that govern Federal construction to the maximum extent feasible and consider local building code requirements. (See 40 U.S.C. 618 and 619.)

(d) Design Federal buildings to have a long life expectancy and accommodate periodic changes due to renovations.

(e) Make buildings cost effective, energy efficient, and accessible to and usable by the physically impaired.

(f) Provide for building service equipment that is accessible for maintenance, repair, or replacement without significantly disturbing occupied space.

(g) Consider ease of operation when selecting mechanical and electrical equipment.

(h) Agencies must follow the prospectus submission and approval policy identified in §§ 102-73.95 and 102-73.100 of this chapter.

§ 102-76.15 What are design and construction services?

Design and construction services are:

- (a) Site planning and landscape design;
- (b) Architectural and interior design; and
- (c) Engineering systems design.

§ 102-76.20 What issues must Federal agencies consider in providing site planning and landscape design services?

In providing site planning and design services, Federal agencies must:

- (a) Make the site planning and landscape design a direct extension of the building design;
- (b) Make a positive contribution to the surrounding landscape;
- (c) Consider requirements (other than procedural requirements) of local zoning laws and laws relating to setbacks, height, historic preservation and aesthetic qualities of a building;

(d) Identify areas for future building expansion in the architectural and site design concept for all buildings where an expansion need is identified to exist;

(e) Create a landscape design that is a pleasant, dynamic experience for occupants and visitors to Federal facilities and, where appropriate, encourage public access to and stimulate pedestrian traffic around the facilities. Coordinate the landscape design with the architectural characteristics of the building; and

(f) Comply with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq., and the National Historic Preservation Act, as amended, 16 U.S.C. 470 et seq., for each project.

(g) Consider the vulnerability of the facility as well as the security needs of the occupying agencies.

§ 102-76.25 What standards must Federal agencies meet in providing architectural and interior design services?

Federal agencies must design distinctive and high quality Federal facilities that meet all of the following standards:

(a) Reflect the local architecture in buildings through the use of building form, materials, colors, or detail. Express a quality of permanence in the building interior similar to the building exterior.

(b) For new construction and major renovations, provide full access to and use of Federally-controlled facilities for physically impaired persons. Follow the Architectural Barriers Act of 1968, 42 U.S.C. 4151–4157 (Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS)) or Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Public Law 101–336, 104 Stat. 327 (ADA accessibility guidelines), whichever is more stringent. For minor renovations in existing buildings, meet minimum UFAS requirements. A more detailed explanation of these standards can be found in part 101–19, subpart 101–19.6, of this title.

(c) Use metric specifications in construction where the metric system is the accepted industry standard, and to the extent that such usage is economically feasible and practical.

(d) Provide for the design of security systems to protect Federal workers and visitors and to safeguard facilities against criminal activity and/or terrorist activity. Security design must support the continuity of Government operations during civil disturbances, natural disasters and other emergency situations.

(e) Design and construct facilities that meet or exceed the energy performance standards applicable to Federal buildings in 10 CFR part 435.

including painting, sculpture, and artistic work in other media, must reflect the national cultural heritage and emphasize the work of living American artists.

§ 102–77.15 Who funds the Art-in-architecture efforts?

To the extent not prohibited by law, Federal agencies must fund the Art-in-architecture efforts by allocating a portion of the estimated cost of constructing or purchasing new Federal buildings, or of completing major repairs and alterations of existing buildings. Funding for qualifying projects, including new construction, building purchases, other building acquisition, or prospectus-level repair and alteration projects, must be in a range determined by the Administrator of General Services.

§ 102–77.20 Who should Federal agencies collaborate with when commissioning and selecting art for Federal buildings?

To the maximum extent practicable, Federal agencies should seek the support and involvement of local citizens in selecting appropriate artwork. Federal agencies should collaborate with the artist and community to produce works of art that reflect the cultural, intellectual, and historic interests and values of a community. In addition, Federal agencies should work collaboratively with the architect of the building, art professionals, when commissioning and selecting art for Federal buildings. Federal agencies should commission artwork that is diverse in style and media.

§ 102–78.5 What is the scope of this part?

The real property policies contained in this part apply to Federal agencies, including the GSA/Public Buildings Service (PBS), operating under, or subject to, the authorities of the Administrator of General Services. The policies in this part are in furtherance of GSA's preservation program under section 110 of the National Historic Preservation Act (16 U.S.C. 470) and apply to properties under the jurisdiction or control of the Administrator and to any Federal agencies operating, maintaining or protecting such properties under a delegation of authority from the Administrator.

§ 102–78.10 What basic historic preservation policy governs Federal agencies?

To protect, enhance and preserve historic and cultural property under their control, Federal agencies must consider the effects of their undertakings on historic and cultural properties and give the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (Advisory Council), the State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO), and other consulting parties a reasonable opportunity to comment regarding the proposed undertakings.

§ 102–78.15 What are historic properties?

§ 102–78.40 What responsibilities do Federal agencies have when an undertaking adversely affects a historic or cultural property?

Federal agencies must not perform an undertaking that could alter, destroy, or modify an historic or cultural property until they have consulted with the SHPO and the Advisory Council. Federal agencies must minimize all adverse impacts of their undertakings on historic or cultural properties to the extent that is feasible and prudent. Federal agencies must follow the specific guidance on the protection of historic and cultural properties in 36 CFR part 800.

§ 102–78.45 What are Federal agencies' responsibilities concerning nomination of properties to the National Register?

Federal agencies must nominate to the National Register all properties under their control determined eligible for inclusion in the National Register.

§ 102–78.50 What historic preservation services must Federal agencies provide?

- (b) Investigate for historic and cultural factors all proposed sites for direct and leased construction.

§ 102–78.55 For which properties must Federal agencies assume historic preservation responsibilities?

Federal agencies must assume historic preservation responsibilities for real property assets under their custody and control. Federal agencies occupying space in buildings under the custody and control of other Federal agencies must obtain approval from the agency having custody and control of the building.

§ 102–78.60 What are Federal agencies historic preservation responsibilities when acquiring leased space?

In leasing historic property, Federal agencies must give a preference to such leasing actions in accordance with hierarchy of consideration identified in § 102–79.90 of this chapter.

§ 102–78.65 What are Federal agencies' historic preservation responsibilities when disposing of real property under their control?

Federal agencies must:

- (a) To the extent practicable, establish and implement alternatives for historic properties, including adaptive reuse, that are not needed for current or projected agency purposes. Agencies are required to get the Secretary of Interior's approval of the plans of transferees of surplus Federally-owned historic properties.

- (b) Review all proposed excess actions to identify any properties listed on or eligible for listing on the National Register. Federal agencies must not perform disposal actions that could § 102-79.50 What standard must Executive agencies promote in their utilization of space?

Executive agencies, acquiring or utilizing Federally owned and leased space under the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, must promote efficient utilization of space according to GSA standards. In order to maximize the use of vacant space, use existing GSA-controlled space to the maximum extent practical. After considering the availability of GSA-controlled space, extend priority consideration to available space in buildings under the custody and control of the U.S. Postal Service before acquiring additional space. Where there is no Federal agency space need, Executive agencies must make every effort to maximize the productive use of vacant space through out-granting (for example, outlease, permit, license) to non-Federal entities to the extent authorized by law.

§ 102-79.55 Are agencies required to use historic properties available to the agency?

Yes, Federal agencies must assume responsibility for the preservation of the historic properties they own or control. Prior to acquiring, constructing or leasing buildings, agencies must use, to the maximum extent feasible, historic properties already owned or leased by the agency (16 U.S.C. 470h-2).

§ 102-79.60 Are Executive agencies required to give first priority to the location of new offices and other facilities in rural areas?

Yes, when agency mission and program requirements call for location in an urban area and new space must be acquired, constructed or leased,

Executive agencies must give first consideration to central business areas (CBAs) and other areas designated by local officials (Executive Order 12072 (43 FR 36869, 3 CFR, 1978 Comp., p. 213.) and Executive Order 13006 (61 FR 26071, 3 CFR, 1996 Comp., p. 195)).

Each Federal agency is responsible for identifying the delineated area within which it wishes to locate specific activities, consistent with its mission and program requirements, and in accordance with all applicable laws, regulations, and Executive orders.

§ 102-79.80 Who must approve the final delineated area?

Federal agencies conducting the procurement must approve the final delineated area for site acquisitions and lease actions and must confirm that the final delineated area complies with the requirements of all applicable laws, regulations, and Executive orders.

§ 102-79.85 Are Executive agencies required to consider whether the central business area will provide for adequate competition when acquiring leased space?

In accordance with the Competition in Contracting Act of 1984 (CICA), as amended, (41 U.S.C. 253(a)) Executive agencies must consider whether restricting the delineated area for obtaining leased space to the central business area will provide for adequate competition when acquiring leased space. Where an Executive agency determines that the delineated area must be expanded beyond the CBA in order to provide adequate competition, the agency may expand the delineated area in consultation with local officials. Executive agencies must continue to include the CBA in such expanded areas.

§ 102-79.90 Are Executive agencies required to give preference to historic properties when acquiring leased space?

Yes, section 110 of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 470h-2), requires that agencies first consider historic properties already under agency control. However, the Act also provides that prior to acquiring, constructing or leasing new space, and subject to the requirements of Section 601 of Title VI of the Rural Development Act of 1972, as amended (7 U.S.C. 2204b-1), Executive Order 13006 and Executive Order 12072, Executive agencies must first consider historic properties within historic districts when locating Federal facilities. If no such suitable historic property is available, Executive agencies must then consider other developed or undeveloped sites within historic districts. Finally, Executive agencies must consider suitable historic properties outside of historic districts, if no suitable site exists within a historic district.
