WINTER SPORTS 2008 - 2009

Approximately 350 miles of marked and groomed trails are located on the Black Hills National Forest in South Dakota and Wyoming through a cooperative agreement by the U.S. Forest Service with the South Dakota Parks and Recreation Division and Wyoming State Parks and Historical Sites. Parking areas which serve this trail system are signed, plowed, and have sanitary facilities, maps, and information available. During the designated snowmobile season, the groomed trail system is officially closed to wheeled vehicles.

Some plowed roads and areas are closed to snowmobiles to prevent conflicts with logging traffic, wildlife winter range, and cross country ski trails. These areas and roads are shown on this map and/or marked on the ground.

There may be additional restrictions on the occupancy and use of the National Forest. These restrictions may pertain to campfires, camping, parking, possession of animals, etc. To avoid an inconvenience, you are encouraged to contact a local Forest Service office for current information.
