National Contact Lens Enforcement Petition Request For New Docket #

Action Requested -

The petition asks that the FDA move to enforce existing regulations in place to prevent the unlawful sale of all contact lenses without a valid, actively verified, prescription from a licensed eye care professional.

Environmental Impact Statement -

To my knowledge, enforcing the current laws will have no impact on the environment.

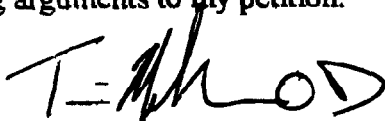

Statement of Grounds -

There are groups, mainly corporations, but perhaps some consumers as well, who would oppose this action. Some companies that are currently selling contact lenses in violation of the law do not wish to see the law enforced. These companies claim that their businesses would suffer financially because it is not convenient for consumers to send a copy of their prescription to a mail order or internet company.

In addition, there may be other groups that favor deregulating contact lenses as a prescription medical device entirely.

Certification -

I certify that to the best of my knowledge all information submitted as part of this petition is true and factual. To the best of my ability, I have faithfully portrayed any opposing arguments to my petition.

Re: National Contact Lens Enforcement Petition (signed by 1,186 optometrists)
Fax is 27 pages long

Dear Commsioner McClellan:

The FDA has ruled that contact lenses are a prescription medical device, yet this agency does not regulate contact lenses in any meaningful way. Only the FDA can act to regulate a medical product involved in interstate commerce. Yet, the agency has left it up to states to handle this difficult problem. The result has been that consumers are not being protected from unscupulous companies whose only desire is profit.

Currently, many mail order and internet companies sell contact lenses without a doctor's valid prescription. This is a very dangerous problem because the average citizen may not understand that many people have gone blind from abusing contact lenses. This situation is even more disturbing since statements released by the FDA warn about the dangers of abusing contact lenses, yet the FDA still fails to act to enforce the law. The FDA even has hundreds of case reports listed on its website in the 'MAUDE' database that prove the risks of abusing contact lenses.

The National Contact Lens Enforcement Petition asks that the FDA enforce the law and push for prosecution of those who would sell prescription medical devices without proper authority. This petition has been signed by almost 1,900 optometrists, ophthalmologists, student doctors, and opticians, representing every state in the union. The language of the petition makes it very clear why so many doctors support this cause. Our mission is honorable and we have the best interests of the general public in mind.

If there is anything that I can do to assist with this cause please feel free to contact me or any of the doctors named in the petition directly.

Sincerely,

Tim Milburn, O.D.

P.S. The petition has the support of Congressman Boozman and it has also been formally endorsed by the State Board of Optometry for the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Dear Sec. Thompson:

The FDA has ruled that contact lenses are a prescription medical device, yet this agency does not regulate contact lenses in any meaningful way. Only the FDA can act to regulate a medical product involved in interstate commerce. Yet, the agency has left it up to states to handle this difficult problem. The result has been that consumers are not being protected from unscrupulous companies whose only desire is profit.

The National Contact Lens Enforcement Petition asks that the FDA enforce the law and push for prosecution of those who would sell prescription medical devices without proper authority. The National Contact Lens Enforcement Petition

This petition is meant to bring attention to a serious public health threat that is not being adequately addressed by state or federal governments. Contact lenses are classified as a Class II and Class III medical device by the Food and Drug Administration, but they are readily available without a prescription on the internet and by mail-order.

The Food and Drug Administration is to be commended for its recent crack-down on illegal dispensing of "non-corrective, decorative contact lenses". The FDA issued a statement on October 23, 2002 with the following warning about decorative contact lenses: "The products present significant risks of blindness and other eye injury if distributed without the involvement of a qualified eye care professional." Furthermore, the FDA stated that it would "seize decorative contact lenses currently on the market in violation of federal law."

Unfortunately, the FDA's statement did not address the risks of ALL contact lenses and failed to address the illegal selling of contact lenses that DO correct vision. The FDA has only touched the tip of the iceberg in dealing with the serious issues and serious consequences related to illegal sales of prescription contact lenses.

The Center for Devices and Radiological Health (CDRH) posts adverse device events on its website under the Manufacturer User Facility Device Experience (MAUDE) Database. The MAUDE database currently lists hundreds of adverse events caused by contact lenses during the last decade. Many of these patients sustained serious eye injuries and some required surgical intervention.

As eyecare professionals we have often times not reported every incidence of contact lens injury to the FDA. In the future, the signers of this petition urge all doctors to report EVERY contact lens related injury of ANY type to the FDA or the CDRH. We recognize that the FDA needs more complete and accurate information about the risks of contact lens wear.

As eye care practitioners, we believe that contact lenses can cause damage to the eyes regardless of where the lenses are purchased. The primary factor for safe lens wear is not where the lenses are purchased, but how well the patient's ocular health is monitored. For this reason, the integrity of the contact lens prescription must be respected. The expiration dates on a prescription are designed to guarantee patient safety and assure appropriate follow up care.

Currently, the FDA does not enforce the laws governing prescription use of contact lenses. The FDA and the CDRH are in possession of the data that proves that contact lenses must be regulated. However, the FDA has failed to regulate the contact lens market in any meaningful way. This failure to regulate has become a serious problem with the advent of mail order and online contact lens ordering. The FDA has posted a consumer warning on its website about the health risks of wearing contact lenses without a valid prescription. However, with the exception of the action taken regarding cosmetic lenses, the FDA has still not acted in the public interest to enforce the law.

On the FDA website, it states that only the FDA has "legal jurisdiction over products shipped in interstate commerce." Yet, at the same time the FDA also claims that "enforcement of prescription device sales has usually been left to state authorities." Here in lies the problem. Many companies are shipping contact lenses without a valid prescription. Many of the states receiving the shipments find it difficult to enforce their laws and many states do not enforce their laws at all against this type of interstate commerce. Yet, to our knowledge, the FDA has failed to investigate, enforce, and prosecute a single case of illegal contact lens sales involving interstate commerce.

As doctors we often feel obligated to warn our patients about the risks of obtaining and wearing lenses after the expiration date of a prescription. However, when discussing these problems with our patients we frequently hear them express statements like "That can't be true or the government would stop them" or "I don't believe they would be allowed to operate illegally like that." Our patients that have such faith in the regulatory powers of the government refuse to believe that any company could operate in repeated and systematic violation of the law.

However, on a regular basis we see patients who have worn disposable contact lenses for over two years without an eye exam, some as long as five or more years. These patients are able to go so long without an exam because they can reorder lenses online without a prescription. These patients are good people. When we warn them of the risks, these patients are shocked to learn that they have been gambling with their ocular health. They are shocked to learn that the company that sold their lenses did so against the law. They are shocked to learn that their government is doing nothing to stop this illegal practice.

As doctors, we do not wish to impede interstate commerce in any manner. We will say that again: In no way, do we wish to inhibit online, mail-order, or interstate sales of contact lenses. Contact lenses CAN be sold safely over the internet. However, internet contact lens sales must be held to the same strict standards as non-internet contact lens sales AND the same standards as internet prescription pharmaceuticals. We support legislation that would require that all internet contact lens purchases should be made only after the seller has received positive, active verification of a valid, unexpired prescription signed by a licensed eye care professional. Internet retailers must not be allowed to substitute lenses, change the prescription, fill an expired prescription, or sell lenses without a valid prescription. Currently, these guidelines are broken on a regular basis.

Truly, the FDA is to be applauded for the stand that it took last October in regards to "non-corrective, decorative contact lenses". But, the FDA must carry on with its mission to enforce the law, safeguard the public, and protect citizens from something which it states "presents significant risks of blindness and other eye injury if distributed without the involvement of a qualified eye care professional." The FDA is the only government agency that has the power to regulate ALL interstate sales of contact lenses.

Our desire, as primary care providers, is first and foremost the well being of our patients. As practitioners we have quietly lobbied for over a decade for something to be done about this dangerous situation. Now, once and for all, something must be done. Actions must be taken.

Positive steps were taken last year in regards to decorative lenses, now the laws must be enforced at the federal level for ALL contact lens purchases.
