

From: Gerald Stutes [REDACTED]
Posted At: Saturday, March 29, 2003 1:55 PM
Conversation: The Federal Register Notice
Posted To: FeeRule
Subject: The Federal Register Notice

To whom it may concern,

Charge as much as you can to the telemarketing organizations that continually bother the public during the hours that people have to spend with their families. Freedom of speech in my opinion is continually abused by the telemarketers who are rude, insistent, and disrespectful. They don't take "no" for an answer and are finding other ways (such as unsolicited mailings) to get into our homes invading our rights to privacy. So make them pay as much as possible under the law and encourage the American public to exercise their rights to say "NO" to telemarketers. Bottom line telemarketers are abused and used by companies that have no respect for human rights. Telemarketers are underpaid and they get the bad reputation for these underhanded schemes. I want my right of free speech to be allowed too, but based on their ideas of free speech the consumer doesn't have the right to privacy or to say no.

Don't let them invade our rights to privacy or free speech without a cost!

I am an American Voter and a Consumer - Lets send the telemarketers to [REDACTED] and make them pay for the ride!

Yee Haa!

Over Taxed Texan Citizen