FDA regrets that it was unable to publish this notice 15 days prior to the May 9 and 10, 2002, Biological Response Modifiers Advisory Committee meeting. Because the agency believes there is some urgency to bring these issues to public discussion and qualified members of the Biological Response Modifiers Advisory Committee were available at this time, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs concluded that it was in the public interest to hold this meeting even if there was not sufficient time for the customary 15-day public notice.

Persons attending FDA's advisory committee meetings are advised that the agency is not responsible for providing access to electrical outlets.

FDA welcomes the attendance of the public at its advisory committee meetings and will make every effort to accommodate persons with physical disabilities or special needs. If you

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In the Federal Register of August 15, 2001 (66 FR 42809), FDA published a proposed rule to reclassify the endolymphatic shunt tube with valve from class III (premarket approval) into class II (special controls) based on new information regarding this device. E. Benson Hood Laboratories, Inc. (Hood Laboratories), submitted the new information in a reclassification petition. FDA also identified the document "Class II Special Controls Guidance Document: Endolymphatic Shunt Tube with Valve; Draft Guidance for Industry and FDA" as the special control capable of providing reasonable assurance of safety and effectiveness for this device.

Interested persons were invited to comment on the draft guidance by November 13, 2001. FDA received one comment. The comment, from the petitioner, Hood Laboratories, strongly supported the draft guidance as the proposed special control.

FDA has since revised the draft guidance to provide to manufacturers the option of submitting an abbreviated 510(k) to further reduce regulatory burden.

II. Significance of Guidance

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the agency's current thinking on "Class II Special Controls Guidance Document: Endolymphatic Shunt Tube with Valve; Guidance for Industry and FDA." It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public.
