Section 6 - Job Elements

19. Employees are evaluated using four job element performance standards: Exceptional, Good, Needs Improvement, and Unsatisfactory.

Within 30 calendar days of the new rating period, the Rater selects a minimum of three, but no more than six, critical job elements from the position description for evaluation. The Rater puts them on the Work and Development Plan (WDP) and then, when it is time to complete the EPR, summarizes each element in two-to-four words, or one short sentence. (See Topics in EPR Manual: "Job Elements" and "WDP"-Instructions for Completion for examples.)

Section 7 - Rater Summary Rating

20. The Performance Standards are the criteria used to determine the Rater Summary Rating. When no Reviewer evaluation is required, or none is requested by the employee, the Rater Summary Rating is also used as the Overall Summary in Section 3.

Section 8 - Rater Narrative Summary

21. The Rater is required to complete a narrative summary on the overall performance of the employee when:
- A. The Rater Summary Rating or Overall Summary Rating is Exceptional, Needs Improvement or Unsatisfactory; or
 - B. Post policy requires a narrative for all employees.

Section 9 - Reviewer Summary Rating

22. A Reviewer Summary Rating is required if:
- A. The Rater is not an American direct hire Foreign Service, Civil Service, or Uniformed Service member officially assigned to post and under Chief of Mission authority; or
 - B. The employee receives a Rater Summary Rating of Unsatisfactory; or
 - C. The employee requests it.

The Performance Standards are the criteria used to determine the Reviewer Summary Rating.

Section 10 - Reviewer Narrative Summary

23. If a review is required, the Reviewer must complete a narrative summary on the overall performance of the employee when:
- A. The Reviewer Summary Rating is Exceptional, Needs Improvement, or Unsatisfactory; or
 - B. Post policy requires a Reviewer narrative for all employees.

Section 11 - Employee's Statement

24. The employee is encouraged to complete an Employee's Statement to comment on his or her performance for the rating period.

Section 12 - Submission and Distribution

25. Post HR checks the appropriate sentence in Section 12 and distributes the original EPR and copies as follows:

Original: Employee Performance File (EPF)
1 Copy: Employee

Section 13 (Optional) - Performance Factors

26. The Rater chooses whether or not to complete this section, although it is encouraged as a tool to enhance employee growth and development.

Section 13 provides generic definitions of each performance factor to assist the Rater in completing this optional section of the EPR.

EMPLOYEE PERFORMANCE REPORT (EPR) PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

Exceptional

This is a level of rare, high quality performance. As a general rule, only two to five percent of employees within a section or agency will rate as Exceptional. The quantity and quality of the employee's work substantially exceeds the good standard and rarely leaves room for improvement. The accuracy and thoroughness of the employee's work are exceptionally reliable. Application of technical knowledge and skills goes beyond that expected for the position. Following procedures and formats, as well as suggestions for improvement in these procedures and formats, increases the employee's value.

Good

This is a level of consistently successful, sound performance. The quality and quantity of the employee's work meets or exceeds expectations. The performance represents a dependable level of competence reflecting an ability to work independently without complaint from customers. Tasks are completed in an accurate, thorough, and timely way. The employee reliably adheres to procedures and format requirements, follows the instructions of the supervisor, provides valuable input to the supervisor, and is an ongoing, dependable contributor to the goals of the Mission.

Needs Improvement

This is a minimum level of performance for continued employment. The quality and quantity of the employee's work are below the level of most employees, but the Rater believes improvement is possible. The Rater experiences at least one of the following aspects of performance:

- Tasks are not completed with the needed degrees of accuracy and thoroughness. Application of technical knowledge and skills is not reliable.
- Inappropriate variations from policies, procedures, and instructions interfere with completion of work and the work of others.
- Inadequate work planning leads to missed deadlines.
- The employee's behavior toward the supervisor, co-workers, or others poses problems and diminishes the cooperation needed to complete the work.

Unsatisfactory

This is an inadequate level of performance. The quality and quantity of the employee's work consistently do not meet the assigned work requirements of the position. The Rater experiences at least one of the following aspects of performance:

- Tasks often are submitted late, or require major revision because they are incomplete or inaccurate.
- Despite training, the knowledge applied does not produce the needed results.
- Inappropriate variations from policies, procedures, and instructions get in the way of completing the employee's own work and the work of others.
- The employee's behavior obstructs the successful completion of the work by self and others and disrupts cooperation within the work unit.
