

Malheur National Forest

P.O. Box 909, John Day, OR. 97845 (541) 575-3000 www.fs.fed.us/r6/malheur

FIRE UPDATE August 26, 2008 9:00 am

John Day, OR –The Little Scotty Creek fire located approximately 8 miles west of Seneca, remains at approximately 60 acres.

A containment line has been constructed around the perimeter of the fire.

The Malheur National Forest Type III incident management team along with several other resources continue with mop up efforts.

For firefighter and public safety, Malheur National Forest officials have closed the following road:

- Forest Road 3780 at the junctions of Forest Road 24 and Forest Road 37.
- Additionally there may be short delays at the junction of Forest Road 24 and Forest Road 3780, due to helicopter activity at a dip site.

Due to a quick response and the number of resources available that assisted with this firefighting effort, it is anticipated that resources will start demobing as early as Thursday.

To report a fire, call 541-575-1321.