

Congressman Jerry McNerney's Washington D.C. Welcome Guide and Tour information

Thank you for contacting me regarding your visit to Washington, D.C. My office is eager to assist you in any way we can. Our nation's capital is one of the most historic and vibrant cities in the world. There is a never-ending list of possible activities for you in Washington, and the best part is that many of them are free. You can wake up and enjoy a cup of coffee while watching the hustle and bustle in Dupont Circle, spend the afternoon walking around one of the many Smithsonian museums, and watch the sunset at the Tidal Basin with a majestic view of the Capitol in the distance.

Enclosed, you will find some information that may be helpful for your stay in Washington. After my office has completed arranging your tours you will receive an email from us describing the tours with the dates and times that are available. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact my office at (202) 225-1947.

During your visit, please plan to drop by my office to say hello and pick up Gallery Passes for the House of Representatives and the Senate. My office is located in 312 Cannon House Office Building, across from the Capitol on Independence Avenue, and is open to the public during the week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. We look forward to seeing you, and enjoy your trip!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Jerry McNerney".

Jerry McNerney
Member of Congress

Tours

Tours Offered Through My Office:

Through my Washington D.C. office you may schedule tours to the: White House, Capitol, Supreme Court, Library of Congress, Kennedy Center, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, State Department, and Washington National Cathedral.

A quick note: the White House Tour is the most popular by far. Make sure to reserve your spots as soon as you know when you will be in town.

The White House and The State Department:

White House:

If you are scheduling a White House tour, you will need to fill out a spreadsheet containing personal information for all of your group members. This spreadsheet will be emailed to you after you contact my office. Please be aware that the White House will not release a confirmation of your tour until 2 to 3 weeks before the date requested.

State Department:

If you are requesting a State Department tour, you will need to submit the following information with your request.

For each member of your group: Full name, Date of Birth, Phone Number, Email Address, Drivers license and State

Once you have sent this information to my office, you will receive a conformation email from a staff member alerting you that the request was received. Once your request has been processed, you will receive an additional confirmation email for each attendee with your tour itinerary.

Attached is a packet of information that I hope assists you in planning your trip to D.C. If you have any questions please feel free to send an email to McNerneyInfo@mail.house.gov, or call (202) 225-1947 anytime.

I. PLACES OF INTEREST

THE CAPITOL

Phone: 202-225-6827

Web Address: <http://www.house.gov/house/Visitor.shtml>

Capitol Guide Service: <http://www.aoc.gov/cc/visit/index.cfm>

The magnificent dome of the Capitol is perhaps the most widely recognized symbol of American politics. The Capitol is not only an outstanding architectural site, but it is also a working office building.

I'm happy to offer Congressional staff-led tours. These tours are scheduled through my office and are led by the knowledgeable members of my staff. They are informative and give you insight into the work environment of both the Capitol and the House Office Buildings. These tours are generally available Monday through Friday, 9:30am to 3:30pm. These tours are NOT available on weekends or holidays.

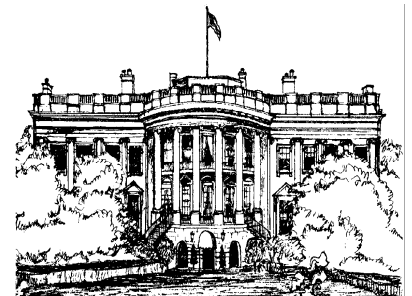

Additionally, the Capitol Guide Service offers tours. These professional tours of the Capitol are conducted during peak and non-peak seasons. During the peak season (March through August) tours are given Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturdays 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The non-peak season runs from September through February with guided tours conducted Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. I suggest that you arrive early at the Guest Service kiosk located along the curving sidewalk southwest of the Capitol in order to secure tickets. All tickets for the tours given by the Capitol guides are available for "same day" only.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Phone: 202-456-7041

Web Address: <http://www.whitehouse.gov>

Home of the President and First Family, the White House is open for morning tours, Tuesday through Saturday, 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The White House is closed on Sunday and Monday. White House tours are scheduled through my office at least six weeks before the expected tour date. Reservations for the White House tour are extremely difficult to obtain, but I will do my best to accommodate you. Due to the post 9-11 environment of increased security, the White House no longer offers public tours.

Please note that no storage facilities are available on or around the complex. Individuals who arrive with prohibited items will not be permitted to enter the White House. Prohibited items include, but are not limited to, the following: handbags, book bags, backpacks, purses, food and beverages of any kind, strollers, cameras, video recorders or any type of recording device, tobacco products, personal grooming items (make-up, hair brush or comb, lip or hand lotions, etc.), any pointed objects (pens, knitting needles, etc.), aerosol containers, guns, ammunition, fireworks, electric stun guns, mace, martial arts weapons/devices, or knives of any size. The U.S. Secret Service reserves the right to prohibit any other personal items. Umbrellas, wallets, cell phones and car keys are permitted. White House tours may be subject to last minute cancellation. Visitors may call the 24-hour line at (202) 456-7041 for the most current tour information.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Phone: 202-707-4683

Web Address: <http://www.loc.gov>

Public tours: <http://loc.gov/visit/tours.html>

The Library of Congress is the most extensive library in the Western Hemisphere and is the definitive source for all works published in the United States. The Library of Congress has three buildings: the John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, and James Madison Buildings. Tours of the Madison and Jefferson Buildings are available only through the Congressional ticket program. Please contact my office to sign up for these special passes.

Public tours of the Library are offered Monday through Saturday at 10:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m., and 3:30 p.m. (although there is no 3:30 p.m. tour on Saturdays). Same-day tickets are available on a first-come, first-serve basis at the Thomas Jefferson Building, on 1st Street, SE. Doors are open to visitors from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday. The closest Metro stop to the Library of Congress is Capitol South (blue & orange lines). This tour lasts about one hour.

THE KENNEDY CENTER

Phone: 202-416-8340

Web Address: <http://www.kennedy-center.org>

The Kennedy Center is home to the Washington Opera, the National Symphony Orchestra and the American Film Institute. The center is also a vital component of the Washington, D.C. art community. Free tours of the Kennedy Center are given by the Friends of the Kennedy Center at 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. As a courtesy, you may contact my office, and we will schedule a tour of the Kennedy Center for you. In addition, the Millennium Theater performs free public concerts every night at 6 p.m. Foreign language tours are also given upon request in Spanish, German, French, and Japanese.

Directions:

THE BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

Phone: 1-866-874-2330 (toll-free)

Web Address: <http://www.bep.treas.gov>

Tour information: <http://www.bep.treas.gov/locations/section.cfm/20/21>

The tour of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, also known as the National Mint, provides an understanding of currency production. Free samples of discarded bills are often passed out as souvenirs. Tours last from 45 to 50 minutes and are conducted Monday through Friday at 9:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. and additional extended tours at 2:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. during the summer (May through August). Group tours of ten or less may be scheduled through my office. Otherwise group tours can be scheduled using the number listed above. Please note that this is a very popular locale and tours are often booked months in advance.

Directions:

Take the “orange line” or “blue line” Metro rail to Smithsonian Metro Station. From here it is a .31 mile walk to 14th and C St. SW

THE SUPREME COURT

Phone: 202-479-3211

Web Address: <http://www.supremecourtus.gov>

The Supreme Court is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Congressional reservations for lectures can be obtained for these days for tours at 1:45 p.m. by calling my office at least one month in advance for groups of six or less. If your group is larger or you do not want to make a reservation, public lectures begin at 9:30 a.m. and run one per hour on the half hour until 3:30 p.m. when the court is not in session.

Architect of the Capitol

Groups should meet at the information desk in the Great Hall. Seating for oral arguments is on a first-come, first-serve basis. The Supreme Court is located at the corner of 1st Street and Maryland Avenue, NE. The closest metro stops are Union Station (red line) and Capitol South (blue & orange lines).

THE WASHINGTON NATIONAL CATHEDRAL

Phone: 202-537-6207

Web Address: <http://www.cathedral.org>

Set on 53 acres in Northwest Washington, the Washington National Cathedral is built in Gothic style. Scheduling of tours for Congressional Offices is not necessary. Tickets can be picked up at our office anytime for the Congressional Lectures which begin promptly at 9am on Mondays and Wednesdays. If you cannot arrive at these times public tours are given all day beginning at 10am. Please note that congressional lectures are given to groups of 10 or less only. Larger groups must call the above number to schedule a public tour. Public tours are available from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and from 12:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Sundays. You can also just show up and take a self-guided tour through the Cathedral. A donation of $3 is recommended by the church.

Directions:

The Cathedral is located on Massachusetts and Wisconsin Avenues, NW. The nearest Metro stop to the Cathedral is Cleveland Park (red line), but it is not very close. One might want to walk from the Metro stop to the intersection of Porter Street and Connecticut Avenue, board the H4 Metrobus headed for Tenleytown Station, and disembark at Porter Street and Wisconsin Avenue; from there, the Cathedral will be in sight. However, I recommend taking a cab for convenience.

THE UNITED STATES BOTANIC GARDENS

Phone: 202-226-4082

Web Address: <http://www.usbg.gov>

The United States Botanic Gardens are on the Mall just west of the Capitol building. They are home to many rare species of plant life and even have a children's garden.

Free 45-minute highlight tours of the U.S. Botanic Garden Conservatory may be available on the day of your visit. Check at the Visitor Information Desk upon your arrival. Groups of 10 - 35 visitors may reserve a free 45-minute guided tour of the Conservatory. These tours are offered Monday through Friday at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and on weekends when space permits. Please make tour reservations at least three weeks in advance by calling (202) 226-4082. The closest Metro stop is Federal Center SW (blue & orange lines).

THE UNITED STATES NAVAL OBSERVATORY

Phone: (202) 762-1467

Web Address: <http://www.usno.navy.mil>

The U.S. Naval Observatory (USNO) is one of the oldest scientific agencies in the country. Established in 1830 as the Depot of Charts and Instruments, its primary mission was to care for the U.S. Navy's chronometers, charts and other navigational equipment. Today, the USNO is the preeminent authority in the areas of precise time and astrometry, and distributes earth orientation parameters and other astronomical data required for accurate navigation and fundamental astronomy.

Public tours of the USNO are now offered on alternating Monday evenings from 8:30 p.m. until 10:00 p.m., except on federal holidays. Tours will include a presentation of the Mission and History of the Naval Observatory, a view of the development of USNO's timekeeping responsibilities with a member of the Observatory's Time Service Department staff, and (weather permitting) viewing of celestial objects with the 12-inch Alvan Clark refractor with an astronomer.

Individual tour passes must be reserved in advance. You may use the online request form located at http://www.usno.navy.mil/tour_info.shtml or fax your request to 202-762-1489.

II. MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES

THE HOLOCAUST MUSEUM

Phone: 202-488-0400

Web Address: <http://www.ushmm.org>

The United States Holocaust Museum is the nation's memorial of the genocide that killed 6 million Jews before and during World War II. The museum provides a thorough and moving historical account of the Holocaust.

While timed passes are needed when visiting the Permanent Exhibition, passes are not needed for special exhibitions or the interactive learning center. Tickets can be obtained each day at the museum or in advance at www.tickets.com, or by calling 1-800-400-9397. The Holocaust Museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily. The closest Metro stop is Smithsonian (blue & orange lines).

THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

Phone: 202-633-1000

Web Address: <http://www.si.edu>

The Smithsonian Institution is one of the greatest repositories of art in the world. The museum complex is comprised of 16 museums and the National Zoo. Nine of the 16 museums are located on the National Mall between the Washington Monument and the Capitol. The most popular sites are the Air and Space Museum, the National Gallery of Art, and the National Museum of American History. The museums are open year-round, but are closed on Christmas Day. The Smithsonian operates from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The Smithsonian does not require tickets and entrance is free of charge. Use the Smithsonian Metro stop on the Mall (blue & orange lines).

THE NATIONAL ZOO

Phone: 202-633-4800

Web Address: <http://nationalzoo.si.edu>

The National Zoo is a part of the Smithsonian Institution and is the "Nation's Zoo." At the 163-acre zoological park, visitors can observe 2,700 individual animals of 435 different species. Perhaps the most popular inhabitants include the Sumatran tigers, Asian elephants, and the two giant pandas, Tian Tian and Mei Xiang, from China. The National Zoo is open every day of the year except December 25, from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. and admittance is free of charge. The zoo is a short walk from the Woodley Park/Zoo/Adams Morgan Metro stop (red line).

THE CORCORAN GALLERY

Phone: 202-639-1700

Web Address: <http://www.corcoran.org>

The Corcoran Gallery's paintings and sculptures are the legacy of William Wilson Corcoran (1798-1888), the museum's founder and a leading patron of American art. With its noted holdings of 19th-century American prints and drawings, the Corcoran continues to broaden its collection to include a wide selection of works by contemporary artists. Today, the Corcoran is renowned for its collection of 20th-century paintings, sculptures and photography.

Corcoran docents lead walk-in tours for the general public that highlight the collection and special exhibitions daily at noon, with additional tours at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday and at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. General admission is $6; see the website for special exhibit admission. The gallery is closed on Tuesdays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day and Thanksgiving. The Corcoran also offers private tours for groups of 15 or more. Tours last approximately 45 minutes. Group tours must be arranged at least a month in advance by calling the Corcoran's Education Department at (202) 639-1730. The Gallery is located at 500 17th St NW, and the Farragut West Metro stop should be used (blue & orange lines).

THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF WOMEN IN THE ARTS

Phone: 202-783-5000

DUMBARTON OAKS

Phone: 202-339-6401

Web Address: <http://www.doaks.org>

The Dumbarton Oaks Research Library and Collection is housed in a nineteenth-century Federal-style house built on the crest of a wooded valley in the Georgetown neighborhood of Washington, D.C. The name combines a reference to the original great oaks on the site, several of which are still standing, with the eighteenth-century name "Dumbarton" taken from the Rock of Dumbarton in Scotland. The property was acquired by Mildred and Robert Woods Bliss in 1920. Twenty years later, they conveyed the house, gardens, and their collections to Harvard University. The institution now has important research resources in the areas of Byzantine studies, the history of landscape architecture, and Pre-Columbian studies. The collections of Byzantine and Pre-Columbian art and the rare books and prints relating to the gardens are on public display. Dumbarton Oaks is open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday, and located on 1703 32nd Street, NW in Georgetown. There is no nearby Metro stop.

THE FREDERICK DOUGLAS HOME

Phone: 202-426-5961

Web Address: <http://www.nps.gov/frdo/index.htm>

Ninety percent of the furnishings displayed in abolitionist and writer Frederick Douglass' historical home are from his time. The home is located at 14th and West Streets, SE. Numerous items from Douglass' personal possessions are on display. The home is decorated with many reminders of his reformist contributions and those of his fellow reformers.

There is a $2 entrance fee, and groups of five or more must make reservations. The home is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. from October 16 through April 14, and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. from April 15 through October 15. 30-minute tours are given throughout the day. The Anacostia Metro stop (green line) is the closest to the home. From the stop take a B2 Metro bus in the Mt. Rainer direction. There is a bus stop directly in front of the home.

MONTICELLO

Phone: 434-984-9822

Web Address: <http://www.monticello.org>

Located in the Virginia Piedmont, Monticello is about two miles southeast of Charlottesville, Va. and approximately 125 miles from Washington, D.C. It is the ancestral home of Thomas Jefferson, which he designed, owned and operated as a plantation. Monticello is open March 1 through October 31 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and November 1 through February 28 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The site offers guided walking tours. Plantation Community tours leave from the Mountaintop Museum Shop and begin on the hour between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Garden tours begin at the fishpond on the West Lawn at a quarter past the hour from 9:15 through 4:15 p.m.

Monticello is not accessible by Metro.

NATIONAL THEATER

Location: 1321 E Street NW

Phone: 202-628-6161 or 1-800-447-7400

NEIGHBORHOODS

ADAMS MORGAN

Situated on 18th Street between Columbia Road and Kalorama Park, Adams Morgan is a bohemian neighborhood with some of Washington's best ethnic restaurants and lively nightlife. Shops, galleries, and antiques are all around this quirky area of town. If you like Berkeley, you'll love Adams Morgan. The nearest Metro stop is Woodley Park-Zoo/Adams Morgan (red line).

CAPITOL HILL

Capitol Hill is the area surrounding the United States Capitol. It is marked by historic and aesthetically impressive architecture. This neighborhood included the Supreme Court, Union Station, Eastern Market, and the Folger Shakespeare Library/Theater. It is a good idea to spend at least half a day exploring the many interesting places in and around Capitol Hill. Metro stops are Capitol South, Eastern Market (both blue & orange lines) or Union Station (red line).

GEORGETOWN

During the Colonial Period, Georgetown was a commercial center on the Potomac River. Now Georgetown is a vibrant mix of shops, galleries, bars, nightclubs and restaurants. During the day, M Street's shops provide a favorite attraction for tourists strolling through Georgetown. On warm nights, the waterfront is a popular spot and people often enjoy strolls along the C&O Canal. No Metro train goes into Georgetown, but the Foggy Bottom stop (orange and blue lines) is the closest, and the Metrobus Circulator runs from Foggy Bottom into Georgetown. For information on bus lines call 202-637-7000.

DUPONT CIRCLE

Dupont Circle is one of Washington's more eclectic and trendy neighborhoods. It runs up and down Connecticut Avenue from N to T Streets, NW. More than most neighborhoods, Dupont Circle epitomizes the best of city living: busy sidewalks, small idiosyncratic stores, turn-of-the-century mansions and brownstones, hip boutiques, fashionable bars, art galleries, museums, coffee houses, and sidewalk cafes. The most convenient Metro stop is Dupont Circle (red line).

CHINATOWN/MCI CENTER

Chinatown is a small neighborhood, but easily accessible by Metro or foot from downtown Washington. The neighborhood is marked by the colorful Friendship Archway, and many of the city's most popular restaurants, both Asian and other, can be found here. It's also home to the MCI Center, an entertainment and sports complex that is home to the NBA's Washington Wizards, WNBA's Washington Mystics and NHL's Washington Capitals. The nearest Metro stop is Gallery Place/Chinatown (red, green, & yellow lines).

ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND/UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

Annapolis is a quaint town about twenty miles east of Washington, D.C. on the Chesapeake Bay. There are great restaurants, small shops, and beautiful waterfront views for you to enjoy. Sailing is very popular in Annapolis, and boats always fill the harbor. In addition, Annapolis is the home of the United States Naval Academy. For more information about the Naval Academy, visit www.usna.edu//homepage.php.
