

Iowa Go Local is produced by the University of Iowa Hardin Library for the Health Sciences in partnership with the University of Iowa College of Public Health and the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics Patients' Library.

Iowa Go Local provides information about health related services, organizations, and providers related to the State of Iowa. Inclusion of a program or service should not be considered an endorsement of any product, service, agency or source of information. Iowa Go Local takes no responsibility for the quality of services provided by any of the services or groups listed.

This project has been funded in whole or in part with Federal funds from the National Library of Medicine, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services, under Contract No. NLM-N01-LM-6-3503 with the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Hardin Library for the Health Sciences
600 Newton Road
Iowa City, Iowa 52242
319-335-9150
lib-hardin@uiowa.edu

Iowa go Local

Your connection to quality health information and local health care providers.

www.medlineplus.gov

The screenshot shows the MedlinePlus website homepage. At the top, it features the MedlinePlus logo and the tagline "Trusted Health Information for You". Below the logo, there is a navigation menu with links for "Home", "Health Topics", "Drugs & Supplements", "Encyclopedia", "Dictionary", "News", "Directories", and "Other Resources". A search bar is located in the top right corner. The main content area is titled "Rural Health Concerns" and includes a sub-header "Other Health Topics:" followed by a list of letters from A to Z. The text discusses health issues in rural areas, such as difficulty getting care and higher rates of chronic disease. It also includes a "Start Here" section with a link to "What's Different about Rural Health Care?". A table with three columns: "Basics", "Learn More", and "Multimedia & Cool Tools" is present. The "Basics" column lists "Overviews" and "Prevention/Screening". The "Learn More" column lists "Related Issues". The "Multimedia & Cool Tools" column states "No links available". Below the table, there are sections for "Research" (Financial Issues, Journal Articles), "Reference Shelf" (Organizations, Statistics), and "For You" (Children, Women, Seniors). A "Related Topics" section lists "Farm Health and Safety" and "Health System". A "Go Local" section includes a dropdown menu for "IA - Iowa" and a "GO" button. At the bottom, there is an "Overviews" section with links to "What Is Rural?" and "What Is Rural? Frequently Asked Questions".

MedlinePlus is a web site that offers free, high quality health information in English and Spanish. Trained professionals from the National Library of Medicine choose materials that are current, accurate, and reliable. MedlinePlus includes hundreds of health topics, drugs and supplements, a medical encyclopedia, health news, interactive tutorials, easy-to-read pages and much more.

www.medlineplus.gov/iowa

The screenshot shows the Iowa Go Local website. The header features the "Iowa go Local" logo and the tagline "Brought to you by the University of Iowa Libraries". A search bar is located in the top right corner. The main content area is titled "Welcome to Iowa Go Local" and includes a sub-header "Services by Location". Below this, there are links for "Services by Providers, Facilities, and Services" and "Services for Diseases and Health Issues". A "Featured Site" section highlights "UI Hospitals and Clinics" with a photo of a group of people. The "Health Information" section includes a link to "MedlinePlus: Health and drug information for patients, family and friends."

Iowa Go Local links MedlinePlus users to health services in their local community related to the health topic they are researching. Iowans can find hospitals, nursing homes, clinics, pharmacies and other providers thanks to Iowa Go Local, a directory of health providers serving the State of Iowa.