

The 2009 Course session has completed. The next occurrence of Advanced National Fire Danger Rating System Course will be in February of 2011. Nominations for that session will be due by November 1, 2010 through your training organization to the Geographic Area Training Representatives.