FTC

I am an American. I am proud to be an American.

My relatives died protecting America.

I am ashamed of our government leaders making laws for the lining of their pockets!

Their greed has lowered the standards of the American products.

You need to see that the Federal Trade Commission sets higher standards to protect the American workers and 100% made in America products made in the United States of America.

It is wrong - lying to the American people to say made in U.S. when it comes from Dabata, Bangkok, Shanghai, Mangus or Mexico or does the FTC not know the boundaries of the U.S.A.

Geography has not changed but the American standards have
