- The states reporting the most complaints – Arizona, California and Florida – coincide with the states reporting the highest rates of foreclosure, demonstrating that the economic downturn has coincided with an upturn in fraud, according to Affinion Security Center, which provides personal data security services for consumers and businesses.

In October of 2007 Gus sponsored two Consumer Fraud and Identity Theft Seminars featuring Federal Trade Commission (FTC) officials, prosecutors and members of the law enforcement community who discussed a host of identity theft and consumer fraud issues, including how to deter, detect and defend consumers and their families from consumer and identity theft crimes.

Gus even went as far as to create an Identity Theft Prevention Task Force which meets on a quarterly basis. The task force works to review current laws and legislation related to identity theft and will recommend future legislation as needed.

Task Force members bring with them the experience of a variety of government agencies, including the United States Secret Service, United States Postal Inspector's Office, Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Attorney General's Office.
