

Comptroller of the Currency
Administrator of National Banks

US Department of the Treasury

Biographies

Timothy W. Long Senior Deputy Comptroller

Bank Supervision Policy and Chief National Bank Examiner

Timothy W. Long serves as Senior Deputy Comptroller, Bank Supervision Policy and Chief National Bank Examiner in the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

He is also Chairman of the Committee on Bank Supervision and is responsible for formulating policies and procedures for supervision and examination of national banks. He assumed his current position in April 2008.

Previously, Mr. Long served as Senior Deputy Comptroller for Midsize/Community Bank Supervision since May 2002, where he was responsible for the OCC's Midsize/Community Bank program, supervising more than 1,800 banks, federal branches and agencies, and more than 1,500 employees.

He also served as Deputy Comptroller for Large Bank Supervision, and prior to that, he held field positions in the Western and Southwestern Districts. He was also a member of the Multinational Banking Division, in which he served as Examiner-in-Charge of NationsBank, Wells Fargo Bank, and First Interstate Bank.

A native of Malta, Montana, Mr. Long began his career in the OCC's Great Falls sub-regional office in 1979. He attended the University of Montana, graduating in 1978 with a degree in business administration.

