

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 18, 2007
Contact: Michelle Eberle, 508-856-2435
Michelle.eberle@umassmed.edu

Public Service Announcements

MedlinePlus: Quality Online Health Information for the Public

60 SECONDS

Need reliable health information? Who doesn't? MedlinePlus.gov, the U.S. National Library of Medicine's web site for health information, provides free reliable, current and easy to understand information on over 700 health topics in both English and Spanish. On MedlinePlus.gov, you will find information on over-the-counter and prescription drugs, herbal supplements, a medical dictionary, encyclopedia, and directories of care providers. The "Go Local" links on MedlinePlus.gov help you find information about health services in your neighborhood. "Go local" links include Web sites from hospitals, physicians, nursing homes, support groups, health screening providers and many others.

MedlinePlus.gov -- your source for quality health information on the Internet. Check it out at MedlinePlus.gov

This message is brought to you by the National Network of Libraries of Medicine / New England Region at the University of Massachusetts Medical School.

30 SECONDS

Need reliable health information? Who doesn't? MedlinePlus.gov, the U.S. National Library of Medicine's web site for health information, provides free reliable, current and easy to understand information on over 700 health topics in both English and Spanish. On MedlinePlus.gov, you will find information on over-the-counter and prescription drugs, herbal supplements, a medical dictionary and encyclopedia, and directories of care providers and hospitals.

MedlinePlus.gov -- your source for quality health information on the Internet. Check it out at MedlinePlus.gov

This message is brought to you by the National Network of Libraries of Medicine / New England Region at the University of Massachusetts Medical School.

10 SECONDS

Need health information? MedlinePlus.gov, the U.S. National Library of Medicine's web site for health information, provides free reliable, current and easy to understand health information on over 700 topics. Check it out at MedlinePlus.gov.