

[AAG/A Order No. 62-92]

Privacy Act of 1974; Systems of Records

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a) and Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-130, Department components have reviewed their Privacy Act systems of records to identify changes that will more accurately describe their records. As a result, eight Department components are republishing systems of records.

Where possible, the changes have been italicized for public convenience. However, changes include (1) a new routine use (identified as "h.") for the Office of the Inspector General Investigative Records, JUSTICE/OIG-001; ¹ (2) a modified routine use for the Assistant United States Attorney Applicant Records System, JUSTICE/USA-016, the Appointed Assistant United States Attorneys Personnel System, JUSTICE/USA-017, and the INTERPOL-United States National Central Bureau (INTERPOL-USNCB) (Department of Justice) INTERPOL-USNCB Records System; and (3) the removal of certain Privacy Act exemptions from the General Files Systems of the Offices of the Deputy Attorney General (DAG) and Associate Attorney General (AAG).

The modified routine use was originally drafted to permit records disclosure to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), General Services Administration (GSA), during records management inspections. The routine use has been modified consistent with Public Law 98-497 (44 U.S.C. 2102) which renamed NARS as the "National Archives and Records Administration" (NARA), and established it as a separate agency which nevertheless would continue to share its records management inspection responsibilities with GSA. Accordingly, the routine use has been changed to show that NARA and GSA are separate agencies which share access to records during these inspections. In addition, the exemptions from subsections (e)(4)(G) and (H) of the Privacy Act have been removed from the General Files Systems, JUSTICE/DAG-013 and JUSTICE/AAG-001. The exemptions are unnecessary because the Offices of the DAG and AAG are complying with these subsections for these systems.

¹ This system was originally published on September 25, 1991 (56 FR 48578), as the Office of the Inspector General Records Index, JUSTICE/OIG-001. The title of the system has been changed to more accurately describe the nature of the system.

Comments on the routine uses may be addressed to Patricia E. Neely, Staff Assistant, Systems Policy Staff, Information Resources Management, Justice Management Division, Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530 (Room 1103, CAB Building). Please submit any comments by April 9, 1992.

Dated: January 30, 1992.

Anthony C. Moscato,
Acting Assistant Attorney General for Administration.
