Looking for Health Care?

Dealing with a health issue — something affecting yourself, a family member, or someone you care for — is stressful. There are so many questions...

- Where can you go to find more information about the condition?
- How do you know what information you can trust?
- Where do you find a professional who can help meet your health care needs?

Helpful Answers

When you are looking for answers to these questions, there is a place you can turn for help. Professional medical librarians are experts in helping people find the information they need. That's why they have created two resources that work together — MedlinePlus® and Go Local North Dakota — to provide some answers.

MedlinePlus®

<http://medlineplus.gov> is a web site that offers free, high quality health information.
