THE U.S. COMMERCIAL SERVICE'S FEATURED U.S. EXPORTER SERVICE

Do you already know which markets you want to reach, but don't speak the language or are uncertain about how to promote your company locally? No problem! The U.S. Commercial Service's Featured U.S. Exporter Service (FUSE) provides U.S. companies with a high-volume, local-language promotion channel in over 60 markets worldwide and in over 15 different languages.

LOCAL-LANGUAGE PROMOTION, IMPROVED VISIBILITY

FUSE is an online directory of U.S. products and services featured on U.S. Commercial Service websites around the world. It gives companies an opportunity to reach prospects in the local language of the target market. How does it work?

- For a low annual subscription rate, your company's profile is featured, in English or the local language, in the FUSE directory of the market(s) in which you are doing business.
- Local buyers, distributors and agents see your company's profile and send inquiries to our local office.
- After confirming the local company's viability, purchasing interest, and contact details, we send you the sales lead for follow up.

- Your company's profile—translated into the language(s) of your target market(s)
