ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST SENSORMATIC ELECTRONICS CORPORATION, CIVIL INJUNCTIVE ACTION AGAINST FORMER SENSORMATIC OFFICERS, AND OTHER RELATED ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS

The Commission today instituted administrative proceedings against Sensormatic Electronics Corporation, a manufacturer and marketer of electronic security systems. The Commission's Order found that, from at least the start of its 1994 fiscal year through July 10, 1995, Sensormatic violated the antifraud, reporting, internal controls, and books and records provisions of the federal securities laws in connection with a scheme to manipulate its quarterly revenue and earnings in order to reach its earnings goals and thereby meet analysts' quarterly earnings projections. During the relevant period, Sensormatic's misstatements of its quarterly net income ranged from an understatement of about $1.9 million (an understatement of 9.1%) in the second quarter of fiscal year 1994 to an overstatement of $5.2 million (an overstatement of 40.5%) in the fourth quarter of fiscal year 1995.

Simultaneous with the institution of the administrative proceedings, and without admitting or denying the findings contained therein, Sensormatic consented to the issuance of the Commission Order which orders the company to cease and desist from committing or causing any violation, and any future violation, of the provisions of the federal securities laws described above.

The Commission also filed a complaint in U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia today against Ronald G. Assaf, Sensormatic's former President and Chief Executive Officer and currently the Chairman of its Board of Directors; Michael E. Pardue, formerly Sensormatic's Chief Financial Officer and a member of its Board of Directors; and Lawrence J. Simmons, Sensormatic's former Vice President of Finance. The Commission's complaint alleges violations of the antifraud and certain other provisions of the federal securities laws in connection with Pardue's and Simmons' role in the scheme to manipulate Sensormatic's quarterly net income. It also alleges that Assaf aided and abetted Sensormatic's reporting violations and caused accounting records to be falsified. Without admitting or denying the allegations contained in the complaint, each of the defendants consented to the entry of Final Judgments permanently enjoining them from violating the relevant provisions of the federal securities laws and ordering Assaf, Pardue and Simmons to pay civil money penalties of $50,000, $40,000 and $50,000 respectively.

The Commission also instituted and settled proceedings pursuant to Section 21C of the Exchange Act and Rule 102(e) of the Commission's Rules of Practice against Joy Lynn Schneider Green, Sensormatic's Controller of U.S. Operations during the relevant period. Without admitting or denying the findings contained in the Order, Schneider consented to the issuance of the Order which finds that she violated, caused and/or aided and abetted certain provisions of the federal securities laws, including those prohibiting the falsification of accounting records and making misrepresentations or omissions to auditors. The Order requires her to cease and desist from committing or causing violations of the relevant provisions and denies her the privilege of appearing or practicing before the Commission as an accountant, with the right to apply to resume appearing or practicing after three years.

Finally, the Commission issued a cease and desist order, by consent, against Thomas H. Pike, Sensormatic's former Director of Management Information Systems. Without admitting or denying the findings therein, Pike consented to the Order which finds that he violated Exchange Act Rule 13b2-1 and caused Sensormatic's reporting violations in connection with his supervision of employees who reset a computer clock in order to falsify dates on shipping records and prematurely recognize revenue. BROKER BARRED

After a hearing held in New York in January, 1998, an administrative law judge has held that Martin Kaiden, the president and sole shareholder of Kaiden Company, a former broker-dealer in New York City which was registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission from October 1986 to May 1994, fraudulently offered non-existent securities that he described as "Prime Bank Guarantees" and "Standby Letters of Credit" for sale to an insurance company.

The administrative law judge found that the scheme took place from May to August, 1993, when Kaiden mailed or faxed letters to the John Hancock Life Insurance Company in an attempt to have it invest in the bogus securities. Kaiden asserted that John Hancock would be guaranteed unusually high returns by purchasing these instruments, which he claimed were issued by the world's top one hundred banks, at a deep discount. Investigation disclosed that these representations were false and no investments by John Hancock were made with Kaiden.

The decision ordered that Kaiden be barred from association with any broker or dealer and from association with a member of a national securities exchange or registered securities association.

Kaiden and Kaiden Company had previously been enjoined in August 1997 for the same conduct by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York and ordered to pay a $50,000.00 civil penalty. (Initial Decision No. 124; File No. 3-9403)

FINAL JUDGMENT ENTERED AGAINST JAMIE CHARLES SPANGLER

On March 17, a Final Judgment of Permanent Injunction was entered against Jamie Charles Spangler in SEC v. Jamie Charles Spangler and Robert Albert Merrifield, 95 CV 814-A (RJA) (W.D.N.Y.). The Final Judgment, to which Spangler consented without admitting or denying the allegations of the Commission's complaint, orders that Spangler be permanently enjoined from committing violations of the antifraud provisions of the federal securities laws. The Final Judgment did not impose civil penalties based on Spangler's demonstrated inability to pay.

The Commission's complaint, filed on September 20, 1995, alleged that, between February 1991 and June 1992, Spangler and another defendant solicited approximately $500,000 from twenty-four unsophisticated investors in the Buffalo, New York area. Spangler solicited monies from these investors by making material misrepresentations and omitting to state material facts in connection with the offer and sale of the securities of two companies, First Legal and Financial Services, Ltd. and Fedelta gli Immobili la Compagniad' Inc. The misrepresentations and omissions concerned the diversion of investor funds for Spangler's personal use, risk of investment, the companies' financial condition, return on investment, and the persons who owned and controlled the companies.
