SUMMARY OF MEETING:

The Consumers Electronic Association (CEA) requested a meeting with CPSC staff to discuss various aspects of their consumer education program on television and television cart and stand safety. CEA presented several materials related to educating the consumer on television safety. CEA also shared a flyer and small news article that they hope would be included with television sales. A copy of a previously released video news release was left with the CPSC staff for their review and comment. CPSC staff reserved comment for a later date so that the flyer and the messages in the VNR could be more closely reviewed and commented upon.
