Summary:

This meeting was organized by the International Life Sciences Institute (ILSI) for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Three committees were formed, including a Steering Committee, a workgroup on Peroxisome Proliferators, and a workgroup on Generic Criteria for assessing the human relevance of animal tumors. Participants included scientists from federal agencies, industry, and academia. The three committees met together in a morning session, then separately for the remainder of the day. Dr. Babich participated in the Peroxisome Proliferator (P2) workgroup. The purpose of the P2 workgroup is to review the state of the science on the human relevance of animal tumors induced by peroxisome proliferators, such as phthalate esters. The P2 workgroup plans to complete a final report in about one year. The report will be published in a peer-reviewed scientific journal. The workgroup plans to meet again later this year.
