FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM (FRS)

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

12 CFR Ch. II

Semiannual Regulatory Flexibility Agenda

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Board is issuing this agenda under the Regulatory Flexibility Act and the Board's Statement of Policy Regarding Expanded Rulemaking Procedures. The Board anticipates having under consideration regulatory matters as indicated below during the period October 1, 2002, through April 1, 2003. The next agenda will be published in the spring of 2003.

DATES: Comments about the form or content of the agenda may be submitted any time during the next 6 months.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be addressed to Jennifer J. Johnson, Secretary of the Board, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, DC 20551.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: A staff contact for each item is indicated with the regulatory description below.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Board is publishing its fall 2002 agenda as part of the Fall 2002 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions, which is coordinated by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Order 12866. The agenda also identifies rules the Board has selected for review under section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, and public comment is invited on those entries.

Participation by the Board in the Unified Agenda is on a voluntary basis.

The Board's agenda is divided into three sections. The first, Proposed Rule Stage, reports on matters the Board may consider for public comment during the next 6 months. The second section, Final Rule Stage, reports on matters that have been proposed and are under Board consideration. A third section, Completed Actions, reports on regulatory matters the Board has completed or is not expected to consider further. Matters begun and completed between issues of the agenda have not been included.

A dot (•) preceding an entry indicates a new matter that was not a part of the Board's previous agenda and which the Board has not completed.

Margaret McCloskey Shanks,
Assistant Secretary of the Board.

4169. • REGULATION: A — EXTENSIONS OF CREDIT BY FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1123)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

CFR Citation: 12 CFR part 201

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposal would restructure the credit programs that Reserve Banks make available to depository institutions. Primary and secondary credit, which would be available at above-market rates with minimal administrative burden, would replace the existing adjustment and extended credit programs. These two new programs should eliminate the concerns that currently prevent depository institutions from going to the discount window during tight money markets when obtaining Federal Reserve credit is appropriate, and also should allow the Federal Reserve to respond more quickly to liquidity strains during national emergencies. The Board has not proposed changes to the seasonal credit program but has solicited comment on whether that program is still necessary and what the applicable interest rate should be. The Board also has solicited comment on the specific economic impact of the proposed changes on small depository institutions. Following the review of the public comments, the Board is expected to take further action.

4170. REGULATION: H — MEMBERSHIP OF STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS IN THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1828(t)

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 208

Abstract: Section 204 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act added a new subsection (t) to section 18 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act requiring the Board, in consultation with the Securities and Exchange Commission, to establish recordkeeping requirements for state member banks and branches and agencies of foreign banks that rely on the exceptions from the definition of broker or dealer provided in section 3(a)(4) or (5) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The Board anticipates issuing for public comment a rule that would implement these recordkeeping requirements. The Board notes that the Securities and Exchange Commission has, by rule, delayed the effective date of the new exemptions for banks contained in section 3(a)(4) and (5) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and has requested comment on rules that would provide guidance concerning the scope of their exemptions. (Release No. 34-44291, reprinted in 66 FR 27760, May 18, 2001; Release No. 34-45897, May 8, 2002). It is not anticipated that the Board's proposal, when issued, would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation.

Abstract: The capital appendices to Regulations H and Y set forth guidelines for institutions in calculating their regulatory capital requirements, both risk-based and leverage.

While the guidelines are continuously monitored and updated as required to reflect market innovations, accounting changes, or modifications to supervisory policy, the Board is undertaking a more comprehensive review of the guidelines to minimize regulatory burden, clarify issues arising from the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, enhance the overall risk sensitivity, and to comply with provisions of section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1994. Following the review, the Board will publish a notice of proposed rulemaking.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 12 USC 4301

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 230

Abstract: Regulation DD, which implements the Truth in Savings Act, requires that depository institutions uniformly disclose to customers information about the terms and conditions on which interest is paid and fees are assessed on deposit accounts.

The Board has targeted Regulation DD for review to update it and to comply with provisions of section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1994. The review is expected to commence with publication of an advance notice of proposed rulemaking in first quarter 2003 and be completed in the same year.

4173. REGULATION: B — EQUAL CREDIT OPPORTUNITY (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1008) (SECTION 610 REVIEW)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1691

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 202

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In 1998, the Board targeted Regulation B, which implements the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA), for a review to update the regulation. The ECOA makes it unlawful for creditors to discriminate against an applicant, in any aspect of a credit transaction, on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, marital status, age, and other specified bases. In March 1998, the Board issued for public comment an advance notice of proposed rulemaking for Regulation B that identified specific issues, in addition to requesting general comment on revisions to the regulation (63 FR 12326, March 12, 1998).

In August 1999, following review of the public comments on the advance notice, the Board issued for public comment a proposed rule amending Regulation B (64 FR 44582, August 16, 1999). Major revisions in the proposed rule include: removing the general prohibition against obtaining information about applicant characteristics such as national origin or gender, although such information still generally may not be considered in extending credit; adding a disclosure requirement for creditors that voluntarily collect data on applicant characteristics; requiring creditors to retain certain records for preapproved credit solicitations; and extending the record retention period for most business credit applications.

Based on the regulatory flexibility analysis, it is not expected that the proposal will have a significant impact on small entities. Although there would be a new disclosure requirement for creditors that voluntarily request information about applicant characteristics, a model form is proposed to ease compliance. Also, there is a new requirement to retain certain records for preapproved credit solicitations. For business reasons, many institutions already retain some of the preapproved credit solicitation information being sought. In addition, compliance burdens should be minimized by the fact that creditors may use a variety of methods, such as electronic storage, to retain records. Following review of the public

Abstract: In March 1998 and September 1999, the Board issued for public comment proposed rules to permit the electronic delivery of Regulation B and Regulation Z disclosures, if the consumer agrees (63 FR 14548, March 25, 1998, and 64 FR 46988, September 14, 1999). The Board also issued similar proposed rules under other consumer financial services laws administered by the Board.

The Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-Sign Act), which became effective October 1, 2000, generally governs the validity of records and signatures in electronic form. The E-Sign Act incorporated some elements of the Board's regulatory proposals governing electronic disclosures. Some provisions in the Board's proposals, however, were modified or preempted by the Act, while other provisions were not addressed by the E-Sign Act but were consistent with that Act and could be issued as final rules.

In March 2001, the Board issued interim final rules on the electronic delivery of disclosures (66 FR 17329, March 30, 2001, and 66 FR 17779, April 4, 2001). The scheduled mandatory compliance date was later lifted (66 FR 41439, August 8, 2001). Under the interim final rules, consistent with the requirements of the E-Sign Act, creditors generally must obtain consumers' affirmative consent to provide disclosures electronically. There are exceptions for certain disclosures. The interim final rules also establish uniform requirements for the timing and delivery of electronic disclosures. The March 2001 rulemakings were published as interim final rules to allow interested persons to present new information or views not considered in previous rulemakings. The rules are not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities. Following review of the public comments, the Board will take further action.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1693 et seq

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 205

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In March 1998 and September 1999, the Board issued for public comment an interim final rule and proposed rules under Regulation E to permit the electronic delivery of disclosures, if the consumer agrees (Docket Number: R-1002; 63 FR 14528, March 25, 1998 (interim rule), and Docket Number: R-1041; 64 FR 49699, September 14, 1999). The Board also issued similar proposed rules under other consumer financial services laws administered by the Board.

The Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-Sign Act), which became effective October 1, 2000, generally provides that records and signatures may not be denied legal effect solely because they are in electronic form. The E-Sign Act incorporated some elements of the Board's regulatory proposal governing electronic disclosures. Certain provisions in the Board's proposal, however, were modified or preempted by the Act, while other provisions were not addressed by the E-Sign Act but were consistent with the Act and could be issued as final rules.

In March 2001, the Board issued an interim final rule on the electronic delivery of disclosures (66 FR 17786, April 4, 2001). The scheduled mandatory compliance date was later lifted (66 FR 41439, August 8, 2001). Under the interim final rule, consistent with the requirements of the E-Sign Act, financial institutions generally must obtain consumers' affirmative consent to provide disclosures electronically. The interim final rule also establishes uniform requirements for the timing and delivery of electronic disclosures. The March 1998 interim rule was withdrawn under the interim final rule.

The March 2001 rulemaking was published as an interim final rule to allow interested persons to present new information or views not considered in previous rulemakings. The rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities. Following review of the public comments, the Board is expected to take further action.

A May 1996 Regulation E proposal to permit financial institutions to provide disclosures electronically also included proposed amendments imposing modified requirements on stored-value products in systems that track individual transactions, cards, or consumers and providing an exemption for cards on which a maximum value of $100 can be stored (Docket Number: R-0919; 61 FR 19696, May 2, 1996); the latter proposal remains pending.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 12 USC 335; 12 USC 1835a

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 208

Abstract: In March 2000, the Board approved an interim rule with request for public comment amending Regulation H to implement section 121 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act for state member banks (65 FR 14810, March 20, 2000). Section 121 in part authorizes state member banks to control, or hold an interest in, financial subsidiaries so as to conduct certain activities that are financial in nature or incidental to a financial activity. In August 2001, following review of the public comments, the Board adopted the final rule substantially as proposed (66 FR 42929, August 16, 2001).

The Board will also consider issuing for public comment a proposed rule in place of an existing Miscellaneous Interpretation (12 CFR 250.141) relating to member banks' purchases of stock in operations subsidiaries to update its provisions and conform to section 121. It is not anticipated that the proposal will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation.

Abstract: In August 1996, the Board issued for public comment a proposal to revise the risk-based capital treatment for certain collateralized transactions (61 FR 42565, August 16, 1996). Under the Board's existing risk-based capital treatment, the portion of a transaction that is supported by qualifying collateral (that is, cash or OECD government securities) is risk-weighted at 20 percent. Transactions that are fully supported by collateral with a positive margin may be eligible for a zero percent risk weight. Generally, the proposal would permit a portion of a transaction that is fully supported with a positive margin of collateral to be eligible for a zero percent risk weight. The portion that is to be continuously collateralized must be identified by the parties.

This proposal was developed on an interagency basis and, if adopted, would eliminate one of the substantive differences among the agencies with regard to the risk-based capital treatment for collateralized transactions. It would implement provisions in the Riegle Community Development and Regulatory Improvement Act of 1994, which requires the agencies to make uniform regulations and guidelines implementing common supervisory policies. The effect of the proposal would be to allow institutions to hold less capital for certain collateralized transactions. It is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Following review of the public comments and development of an interagency final rule, the Board is expected to take further action.

Abstract: In December 2000, the Board issued an interim rule, with request for public comment, amending Regulations H and Y to effectively reduce the capital requirement for certain securities borrowing transactions (65 FR 75856, December 5, 2000). The proposed amendments would recognize the historically low risk of these transactions and bring the capital requirements for U.S. banking organizations into better alignment with the capital requirements of other U.S. and non-U.S. regulators of financial institutions. The proposed amendments would have little or no effect on small banking organizations subject to the Board's regulation, as securities borrowing activities are concentrated in a relatively small number of very large banking organizations. Following review of the public comments, the Board will take further action.

4179. REGULATION: M — CONSUMER LEASING (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1042)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1667

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 213

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In March 1998 and September 1999, the Board issued for public comment proposed rules under Regulation M, which implements the Consumer Leasing Act, to permit the electronic delivery of disclosures, if the consumer agrees (63 FR 14538, March 25, 1998 and 64 FR 49713, September 14, 1999). The Board also issued similar proposed rules under other consumer financial services regulations administered by the Board.

The Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-Sign Act), which became effective October 1, 2000, generally governs the validity of records and signatures in electronic form. The E-Sign Act incorporated some elements of the Board's regulatory proposal governing electronic disclosures. Some provisions in the Board's proposal, however, were modified or preempted by the Act, while other provisions were not addressed by the E-Sign Act but were consistent with that Act and could be issued as final rules.

In March 2001, the Board issued an interim final rule on the electronic delivery of disclosures (66 FR 17322, March 30, 2001). The scheduled mandatory compliance date was later lifted (66 FR 41439, August 8, 2001). Under the interim final rule, consistent with the requirements of the E-Sign Act, lessors generally must obtain consumers' affirmative consent to provide disclosures electronically. There are exceptions for disclosures not deemed to relate to "transactions," such as disclosures in advertising. The interim final rule also establishes uniform requirements for the timing and delivery of electronic disclosures.

The March 2001 rulemaking was published as an interim final rule to allow interested persons to present new information or views not considered in previous rulemakings. The rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities. Following review of the public comments, the Board will take further action.

Abstract: As part of the regular review of its regulations and in accordance with requirements of section 303 of the Riegle Community Development and Regulatory Improvement Act of 1994, and section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1994, the Board is conducting a review of its margin regulations. In order to complete this review, the Board approved issuing for public comment an advance notice of proposed rulemaking in December 1997 (63 FR 2840, January 16, 1998). The advance notice highlights issues raised by interested persons in response to previous requests for comment that had not been addressed by the Board in the course of its periodic review. It also provides an opportunity to further harmonize the treatment of bank and nonbank lenders under the revised Regulation U adopted by the Board at the same time as the advance notice. The advance notice also invites comment on all areas of the regulations.

Abstract: In 1996, the Congress amended the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) as part of the Consumer Credit Reporting Reform Act. The amendments, among other things, prohibited the federal regulatory agencies from issuing implementing regulations. In November 1999, the Congress once again amended the FCRA as part of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act. The amendments lifted the prohibition and directed the Board, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Office of Thrift Supervision to issue implementing regulations jointly.

In October 2000, the agencies issued proposed regulations for public comment (65 FR 63120, October 20, 2000). The proposal is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Following review of the public comments, the agencies will take further action.

Abstract: In May 2001, in response to passage of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, the Board issued for public comment a new regulation (Regulation W) to implement sections 23A and 23B of the Federal Reserve Act (66 FR 24186, May 11, 2001). Sections 23A and 23B regulate transactions between insured depository institutions and their affiliates. The proposed regulation codifies existing interpretations and asks for comment on new interpretations and exemptions. The proposal also requests comment on the treatment of derivatives and intra-day credit exposures between insured depository institutions and their affiliates. The Board has requested comment on the likely burden the rule will impose on small institutions. Following review of the public comments, the Board is expected to take further action.

Abstract: Title I of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLB Act) makes a number of miscellaneous amendments to sections 3, 4, and 5 of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (BHC Act) and adds a new section 10A to the BHC Act. These amendments, among other things, prohibit the Board from determining that new activities are closely related to banking under section 4(c)(8) of the BHC Act; streamline the Board's reporting, examination, and other supervisory authority over bank holding companies and their subsidiaries; reduce the restrictions applicable to companies that control "nonbank banks" that are exempt from the nonbanking restrictions of the BHC Act under section 4(f) of that Act; and repeal the savings bank life insurance provisions currently set forth in section 3(g) of the BHC Act.

The Board will consider issuing for public comment amendments to Regulation Y to implement the provisions of the GLB Act affecting the BHC Act that are not addressed in proposed rules described elsewhere in the Board's agenda. It is not anticipated that the proposals will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation.

The interim rules specify three general types of activities to be financial in nature or incidental to a financial activity, and create a mechanism by which financial holding companies, financial subsidiaries of national banks, or others may request that the Board or the Secretary of the Treasury, respectively, define particular activities within one of the three categories. Such activities would therefore be permissible for financial holding companies and financial subsidiaries of national banks. 4188. REGULATION: BB — COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1112) (SECTION 610 REVIEW)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 12 USC 2901

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 228

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In 1995, the Board issued Regulation BB which implements the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA). Substantially similar regulations were issued by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), and the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS). The goal of these regulations was to achieve more objective performance-based CRA examinations and to minimize burden. At the time these regulations were issued, the agencies committed to conducting a 2002 comprehensive review of the regulations' effectiveness in achieving this goal.

In July 2001, the Board, the OCC, FDIC, and OTS issued an advance notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPR) (66 FR 37602, July 19, 2001). The notice identifies key issues in addition to requesting comment generally on potential revisions to the regulation. The Board is also reviewing the regulation in accordance with requirements of section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1994.

The first issue presented in the ANPR is whether any change to the regulation is necessary and warranted, in light of the burden that change would entail. Other issues include: the effectiveness of the evaluation methods set forth in the regulations; the effectiveness of the requirement that large financial institutions collect and report data on small business, small farm, and community development lending; and whether the regulations have provided a reasonable and sufficient standard for designating the communities within which a financial institution's activities will be evaluated during a CRA examination.

It is not anticipated that any rule proposed for public comment would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation. Following review of the public comments, the Board is expected to take further action.

4189. REGULATION: DD — TRUTH IN SAVINGS (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1044)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 12 USC 4301 et seq

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 230

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In March 1998 and September 1999, the Board issued for public comment proposed rules and an interim rule under Regulation DD, which implements the Truth in Savings Act (TISA), to permit the electronic delivery of disclosures, if the consumer agrees (63 FR 14533, March 25, 1998, and 64 FR 49740, September 14, 1999). The interim rule permits the electronic delivery of TISA disclosures provided on periodic statements. The Board also issued similar proposed rules under other consumer financial services laws administered by the Board.

The Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (E-Sign Act), which became effective October 1, 2000, generally governs the validity of records and signatures in electronic form. The E-Sign Act incorporated some elements of the Board's regulatory proposal governing electronic disclosures. Certain provisions in the Board's proposal, however, were modified or preempted by the Act, while other provisions were not addressed by the E-Sign Act but were consistent with that Act and could be issued as final rules.

In March 2001, the Board issued an interim final rule on the electronic delivery of disclosures (66 FR 17795, April 4, 2001). The scheduled mandatory compliance date was later lifted (66 FR 41439, August 8, 2001). Under the interim final rule, consistent with the requirements of the E-Sign Act, depository institutions generally must obtain consumers' affirmative consent to provide disclosures electronically. There are exceptions for disclosures not deemed to relate to "transactions," such as disclosures in advertising. The interim final rule also establishes uniform requirements for the timing and delivery of electronic disclosures. The 1999 interim rule permitting electronic delivery of Regulation DD disclosures on periodic statements was withdrawn under the interim final rule.

The March 2001 rulemaking was published as an interim final rule to allow interested persons to present new information or views not considered in previous rulemakings. The rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities. Following review of the public comments, the Board will take further action.

4190. MISC. INTERPRETATIONS: APPLICATION OF SECTIONS 23A AND 23B OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE ACT TO DERIVATIVE TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES AND INTRADAY EXTENSIONS OF CREDIT TO AFFILIATES (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1104)Priority: Substantive, NonsignificantLegal Authority: 12 USC 371c(f); 12 USC 371c-1(e)CFR Citation: 12 CFR 250.247Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLB Act) required the Board to adopt, by May 12, 2001, final rules under section 23A to address credit exposures arising out of derivative transactions between insured depository institutions and their affiliates and intraday extensions of credit by insured depository institutions to their affiliates as covered transactions. In May 2001, the Board adopted interim final rules pursuant to the amendments to section 23A contained in the GLB Act and requested public comment on the rules (66 FR 24229, May 11, 2001).

The interim rule requires that an institution establish and maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to manage the credit exposure arising from the institution's derivative transactions with affiliates and clarifies that institution-affiliate derivative transactions are subject to the market terms requirement of section 23B. The policies and procedures must at a minimum provide for monitoring and controlling the credit exposure arising from the institution's derivative transactions with each affiliate and all affiliates in the aggregate, and ensure that the institution's derivative transactions with affiliates comply with section 23B. The intraday credit rule also requires insured depository institutions to have policies and procedures in place and clarifies that the transactions are subject to section 23B.

Although the proposal is not expected to have a significant economic impact on small institutions, the Board has specifically requested comment on the likely burden the rule will impose. Following review of the public comments, the Board will take further action on this matter in connection with its review of the proposed Regulation W (Docket Number: R-1103; RIN 7100-AC63).

4191. REGULATION: C — HOME MORTGAGE DISCLOSURE (DOCKET NUMBERS: R-1001 AND R-1120)Priority: Substantive, NonsignificantLegal Authority: 12 USC 2801CFR Citation: 12 CFR 203Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In 1998, Regulation C, which implements the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) was targeted for review to update the regulation. HMDA requires most mortgage lenders located in metropolitan areas to report annually to Federal agencies and disclose to the public information about their home purchase and home improvement lending activities. In March 1998, the Board issued an advance notice of proposed rulemaking, and in December 2000 issued for public comment a proposed rule amending Regulation C (65 FR 78656, December 15, 2000).

In January 2002, following review of the public comments, the Board approved a final rule amending Regulation C (67 FR 7221, February 15, 2002). Among other things, the amendments, which are effective January 1, 2003, do the following: (1) revise definitions of certain reportable loans and the definition of application to include "preapprovals" as defined in the regulation; (2) require lenders to report loans with APRs that exceed the yield on a Treasury security of comparable maturity, if the rate spread above the Treasury rate is 3 percentage points for first lien loans and 5 percentage points for subordinate lien loans—lenders must report the rate spread above the appropriate Treasury security; (3) report whether a loan is subject to Home Ownership and Equity Protection Act and whether a loan is for manufactured housing; and (4) expand the coverage of nondepository lenders.

On May 2, 2002, the Board delayed the effective date of the final revisions to January 1, 2004, with limited exceptions relating to the use of 2000 census data.

The final rule would affect all institutions currently within the scope of the regulation, including covered small institutions. No newly covered institution would be a small mortgage lender. It is not anticipated that the final rule would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation.

At the time of adoption of the final rule, the Board requested comment on three additional issues: (1) whether the rate spreads of three and four percent are appropriate; (2) whether lien status should be reported; and (3) whether lenders should be required to ask about race and national origin, for example, in connection with telephone applications (67 FR 7251, February 15, 2002).

On June 3, 2002, after review of the public comments, the Board adopted additional final revisions to Regulation C. These revisions (1) establish the thresholds for determining the loans for which financial institutions must report loan pricing data (the spread between the annual percentage rate (APR) on a loan and the yield on comparable Treasury securities) as required under the final rule approved January 2002; (2) require lenders to report the lien status of applications and loan originations; and (3) effective January 1, 2003, require lenders to ask applicants their ethnicity, race, and sex, in applications taken by telephone.

The final rule would affect all institutions currently within the scope of the regulation, including covered small institutions. No newly covered institutions would be a small mortgage lender. It is not anticipated that the final rule would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the Board's regulation.

Except for the rule regarding telephone applications, the final rules adopted in June 2002 are effective January 1, 2004.

4192. REGULATION: H — MEMBERSHIP OF STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS IN THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM (DOCKET NUMBER: R-1099)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1835a

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 208

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In April 2001, the Board, along with the other banking agencies, issued for public comment a proposed rule that would amend uniform regulations implementing section 109 of the Riegle-Neal Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act of 1994 (Interstate Act) to effectuate the amendment of section 109 contained in section 106 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (66 FR 18411, April 9, 2001). Section 109 prohibits a bank from establishing or acquiring a branch or branches outside of its home state for the purpose of deposit production. Additionally, section 109 contains guidelines for determining whether a bank is reasonably helping to meet the credit needs of communities served by an out-of-state branch or branches.

Section 106 expanded the coverage of section 109 of the Interstate Act to include any branch of a bank controlled by an out-of-state bank holding company. The proposed rule amends the regulatory deposit production prohibition to include any bank or branch controlled by an out-of-state bank holding company, including a bank consisting only of a main office.

The rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities subject to the regulation. Following review of the public comments, the Board approved the joint final rule substantially as proposed on May 20, 2002.
