

2006 CFC Heroes and Innovators Awards Nominations Announced

The National CFC Awards Committee is soliciting nominations for the annual CFC Heroes and Innovators Awards. One of the highlights of the CFC year is the opportunity we at OPM have to share with and honor Federal employees and campaign leaders for their outstanding efforts. Last year, this official ceremony was held at the historic Eisenhower Executive Office Building (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/history/eeobtour/>) followed by a reception in the Indian Treaty Room.

Nominations for the 'unsung heroes' and innovators of the 2006 CFC are due by March 9, 2007. Nominations may be sent via email to cfc@opm.gov, using the attached forms. These will be reviewed and selected by the committee composed of LFCC members and PCFO Coordinators, chaired by Dale Rieck, LFCC Chairperson of the Southwest Georgia CFC.

Awards will be given to individuals selected from each of the following four Federal communities: Civilian, Postal, and Military (Uniform and Civilian). The committee will also review nominations for campaigns that executed an innovative strategy that resulted in increased participation and/or contributions.

The recipients of these awards will be invited to attend an awards ceremony in Washington, DC later this year. Nominees that are not selected will receive a certificate from the Office of Personnel Management acknowledging their exceptional performance.

These awards are a wonderful way to highlight the CFC and the individuals who make it happen. As such, we invite you to replicate this program locally.

We look forward to hearing from you.
