Dear FTC Secretary,

My information indicates the FTC will debate/rule in August on potential changes in the definition of the "Made in U.S.A." label. Corporations want rules changed to redefine "Made in U.S.A." Current rules state that 98% of manufacturing must occur in the U.S.A. They want to change it to a much lesser percentage. I strongly disagree! The FTC must not change the 98% requirement. Anything less than that is deceitful. It would be outright lying to the American public.
