Gentlemen;

I am strongly opposed to allowing goods having a "Made in USA" label unless the items have 100% USA content and made in the USA.

I was recently shopping for disposable razor blades and saw a package for $1.99. I checked and found they were made in some Asian country. I purchased a package of like number of blades made in the USA although they cost $2.49.

I resent the fact that elitist internationalist corporations and my own government would try to hinder my support of American workers and pro American companies by the proposed deceptive labeling.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Billy Z. Walker
