What does this survey ask?

This survey asks questions about your company's R&D expenses as well as R&D that is paid for by customers, the government, and other organizations that are not owned by your company (funded R&D). This survey also requests data on your company's R&D employees and intellectual property.

The Business R&D and Innovation Survey is divided into six sections. Each section asks questions about different aspects of R&D at your company. Due to the specialized nature of each section, it may be necessary to collaborate with colleagues in different departments within your company for each section. The sections are color-coded and cover the following topical areas:

- Asks for information about your company's ownership, business(es), and revenue
- All companies must complete this section to determine whether they are required to complete the rest of the survey

- Asks for information about your company's R&D expense and capital expenditures for R&D
- Best answered by persons with knowledge of your company's financial records

Section 3: R&D Management and Strategyp.21

- Best answered by persons with first-hand knowledge of R&D operations, such as a VP of Research

- Asks for information about R&D that is paid for by others, such as that paid for by customers or partners
- Best answered by persons with knowledge of your company's financial records related to contracts and grants

- Asks for information about your company's R&D employees
- · Best answered by persons with knowledge of your company's human resources records

Section 6: Intellectual Property, Technology Transfer, and Innovationp.49

- Asks for information about intellectual property such as patents, technology transfer activities such as patent licensing, and actions taken to improve company performance
- Best answered by persons with knowledge of your company's patenting, licensing, and general business strategy

SECTION 2

R&D Paid for by Your Company (R&D Expense)

Who should answer this section?

Persons familiar with accounting concepts and with access to financial records related to your company's R&D activities should complete this section.

SECTION 2 – R&D Paid for by Your Company (R&D Expense)

What does this section cover?

This section requests financial information about your company's R&D expenses, and capital expenditures for R&D. This section requests information about your company's R&D at multiple levels of detail: for your worldwide consolidated enterprise, for units or parts of your company defined by geography (countries, states, specific location), and for parts of your company defined by business code.

What is the reporting unit?

The reporting unit is your company, including all subsidiaries and divisions. Include operations of subsidiary companies, where there is more than 50 percent ownership. Also include data for discontinued operations.

What does "R&D performed by your company" mean?

This section uses two different concepts to collect information about your company's R&D: an accounting concept, R&D expense, and a physical concept, R&D performed by your company. The amount of R&D reported using these two concepts may differ.

Report R&D expense according to accounting definitions used by your company. For more information refer to Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Accounting Standards No. 2 (Accounting for Research and Development Costs). For this survey report R&D expense even if the amount is not considered material to your company.

R&D performed by your company includes all costs for R&D performed by your company's full-time, part-time, and temporary employees. It excludes costs for R&D performed by others not owned by your company such as contract research organizations, universitites, and federal laboratories.

What do the terms "worldwide" and "domestic" mean?

The term "worldwide" refers to all geographic locations including the United States. The term "domestic" refers to the 50 United States and the District of Columbia only.

How should dollar amounts be reported?

Report all dollar amounts rounded to the nearest thousand.

	$Bil.		Mil		Т	hοι	ι.
Example: If figure is $179,125,628.00 report:		1	7	9	1	2	6

Are estimates acceptable?

Yes, estimates are acceptable. Please report all items to the best of your ability.

How should I answer a question that does not apply to my company?

Enter "0" if a question or category does not apply to your company.

What time period should be reported?

Report data for calendar year 2008, if possible, or for your company's fiscal year ending between April 2008 and March 2009.

NOTE: If your company was either purchased or ceased operations between April 1 and December 31, 2008, complete the survey for the period from January 1, 2008 to either the date of purchase or the date your company ceased operations.

NOTE: If your company is owned by a non-U.S. company, do not include data for your foreign owner or for any other affiliated companies not owned by your company.

SECTION 3

R&D Management and Strategy

Who should answer this section?

Persons familiar with the technical, managerial, and strategic aspects of your company's R&D should complete this section.

SECTION 3 – R&D Management and Strategy

What does this section cover?

This section requests information about the characteristics of the R&D expenses your company reported in Section 2. This section requests information about your company's worldwide consolidated R&D and R&D your company performs in the domestic United States.

What is the reporting unit?

The reporting unit is your company, including all subsidiaries and divisions. Include operations of subsidiary companies, where there is more than 50 percent ownership. Also include data for discontinued operations.

NOTE: If your company is owned by a non-U.S. company, do not include data for your foreign owner or for any other affiliated companies not owned by your company.

What does "R&D performed by your company" mean?

This section uses two different concepts to collect information about your company's R&D: an accounting concept, R&D expense, and a physical concept, R&D performed by your company. The amount of R&D reported using these two concepts may differ.

R&D expense is based on accounting definitions used by your company. For more information refer to Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Accounting Standards No.2 (Accounting for Research and Development Costs). For this survey, report R&D expense even if the amount is not considered material to your company.

R&D performed by your company includes all costs for R&D performed by your company's full-time, part-time, and temporary employees. It excludes costs for R&D performed by others not owned by your company such as contract research organizations, universitites, and federal laboratories.

What do the terms "worldwide" and "domestic" mean?

The term "worldwide" refers to all geographic locations including the United States. The term "domestic" refers to the 50 United States and the District of Columbia only.

How should dollar amounts be reported?

Report all dollar amounts rounded to the nearest thousand.

	$Bil.		Mil		Г	hοι	ı.
Example: If figure is $179,125,628.00 report:		1	7	9	1	2	6

Are estimates acceptable?

Yes, estimates are acceptable. Please report all items to the best of your ability.

How should I answer a question that does not apply to my company?

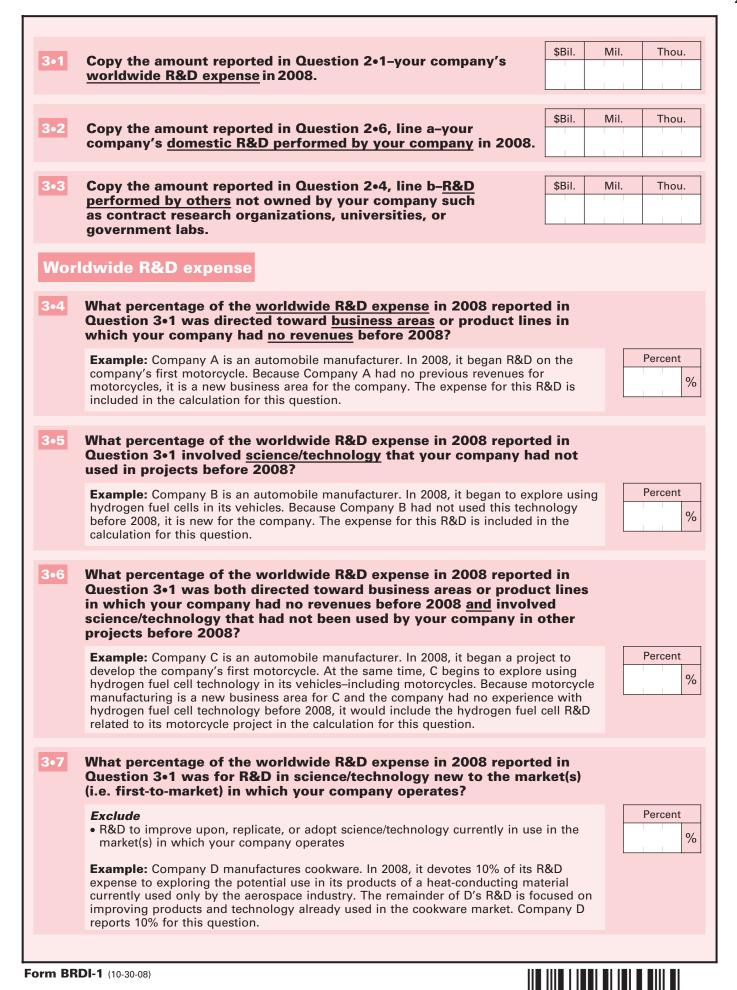

Enter "0" if a question or category does not apply to your company.

What time period should be reported?

Report data for calendar year 2008, if possible, or for your company's fiscal year ending between April 2008 and March 2009.

NOTE: If your company was either purchased or ceased operations between April 1 and December 31, 2008, complete the survey for the period from January 1, 2008 to either the date of purchase or the date your company ceased operations.

SECTION 4

R&D Funded or Paid for by Others

Who should answer this section?

Persons familiar with accounting concepts and with access to financial records related to your company's R&D activities that are funded or paid for by others (funded R&D) including R&D paid for by customers and R&D supported by government grants should complete this section.

SECTION 4 – R&D Funded or Paid for by Others

What does this section cover?

This section requests information about your company's R&D activities that are funded or paid for by others not owned by your company (funded R&D). R&D reported in Section 2 should not be included in responses to this section.

What is the reporting unit?

The reporting unit is your company, including all subsidiaries and divisions. Include operations of subsidiary companies, where there is more than 50 percent ownership. Also include data for discontinued operations.

NOTE: If your company is owned by a non-U.S. company, you should report the cost of R&D reimbursed by both your foreign owner and other affiliated companies not owned by your company in this section.

What is funded R&D?

Funded R&D is R&D your company performs that is funded or paid for by others not owned by your company. Examples of funded R&D include R&D performed under contract for a customer, R&D supported by a government grant, and R&D that is performed under a reimbursable agreement with business partners.

Because the costs for this work are not paid for by your company, they are not accounted for as R&D expenses, even though the nature of the work may be identical to other activities that are accounted for as R&D expenses by your company.

What do the terms "worldwide" and "domestic" mean?

The term "worldwide" refers to all geographic locations including the United States. The term "domestic" refers to the 50 United States and the District of Columbia only.

How should dollar amounts be reported?

Report all dollar amounts rounded to the nearest thousand.

	$Bil.		Mil		Т	ĥοι	J.
Example: If figure is $179,125,628.00 report:		1	7	9	1	2	6

Are estimates acceptable?

SECTION 5

R&D Human Resources

Who should answer this section?

Persons familiar with human resources concepts and with access to records related to your company's employees should complete this section.

SECTION 5 – R&D Human Resources

What does this section cover?

This section requests information about your company's employees, focusing on those who worked on R&D activities either full-time or part-time.

What is the reporting unit?

The reporting unit is your company, including all subsidiaries and divisions. Include operations of subsidiary companies, where there is more than 50 percent ownership. Also include data for discontinued operations.

NOTE: If your company is owned by a non-U.S. company, do not include data for your foreign owner or for any other affiliated companies not owned by your company.

Who are R&D employees?

R&D employees include all employees providing direct support to either R&D paid for by your company or R&D paid for by others not owned by your company, such as R&D your company performs under a grant or contract. Include scientists and engineers working on R&D projects as well as R&D managers, administrators, clerical staff, and interns providing direct support to R&D projects.

R&D employees do not include staff providing indirect support such as security guards and cafeteria workers. Leased employees, temps and on-site consultants should not be counted as R&D employees.

What is a full-time equivalent (FTE)?

A full-time equivalent takes into account employees who do not work full-time or for employees who do not work on R&D activities full-time. For example, an employee who works half-time would be counted as one employee on a headcount basis but as one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) an FTE employee. Similarly, a full-time employee hired in June would be counted as one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) an FTE employee. The number of FTEs and the headcount may differ for your company.

What do the terms "worldwide" and "domestic" mean?

The term "worldwide" refers to all geographic locations including the United States. The term "domestic" refers to the 50 United States and the District of Columbia only.
