

UNIVERSITY of NORTH TEXAS
HEALTH SCIENCE CENTER at Fort Worth
★
School of Public Health

From the Office of Student and Academic Services

Please make announcements to your class weekly. Announcements will be sent every Monday. To post an announcement, please contact Tiffany Lopez, Coordinator of Student Services at tlopez@hsc.unt.edu

Submissions must be received by noon Friday to be included in the following week's announcements.

School of Public Health Weekly Announcements

IMPORTANT CLASS DAYS

Last day to file Intent to graduate TODAY!

ASPH lunch and learn visit to campus, Sept 14

Last day to defend/present thesis, dissertation Oct 30

Upcoming Events in the School of Public Health

- Medical Sociology (SCBS 5150) is a new course in the School of Public Health that will be offered spring 2007 by Dr. Jim Stimpson in the department of social and behavioral sciences. This course is required for students in the social sciences track of the MPH program. The objective of this course is to provide students with a broad overview and introduction to topics regarding sociological aspects of health and the health care system in the United States. Though the primary focus of the course will be on current issues surrounding the stratification of health in the U.S. and the U.S. health care system, class discussions and course readings will also familiarize students with theoretical, historical, and international issues where relevant. The course is divided into five main topics: social distribution of illness, health & illness behavior, meaning and experience of illness, practice of medicine, and organization of health care systems
- Career Fair Oct 16
- American Public Health Association Nov 4-8
- Public Health Poster Session Nov 15
- Texas Public Health Association Feb 25-27