Introduction

Electronic media and motion pictures play an increasingly important role in the lives of many people. Most Americans spend a great deal of time listening to the radio, watching television and going to the movies. Many report that these media provide their chief source of entertainment, news and information. For this reason, radio, television and film production constitute important areas of study. Whether a student plans a career in the media industries or simply wishes to have a more meaningful understanding of the cultural impact of these media products, a liberal arts education is required. The major in radio, television and film provides a comprehensive background, along with a focused study of electronic media and film.

Many students' first thought when considering an RTVF major is the area of production. Although production is an important and necessary part of the degree program, students will also study the history of the media, the structure and economic basis of the industry, writing in the particular forms required by the media, and other topics. Essential for the well-educated RTVF major is the development of a keen understanding of how the media industries work, how their products are created, and the cultural impact these products have both on our own society and those of other countries.

Programs of Study

The department offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the following areas:

- Bachelor of Arts,
- Master of Arts,
- Master of Science, and
- Master of Fine Arts, all with a major in radio/television/film;
- Bachelor of Arts with a major in electronic news.

Admission to the Major

Only RTVF pre-majors (PRTF), RTVF majors and electronic news majors can take RTVF courses. Entering students interested in majoring in RTVF will be classified as pre-majors and will be advised by the department. Admission to the university or to pre-major status does not guarantee admission to the RTVF major.

The RTVF department's pre-major requirement must be fulfilled before a student can apply for RTVF major status. Entering students who elect to pursue the RTVF-BA major will be classified as pre-majors (PRTF) until they fulfill the pre-major requirements. To do this, a student must successfully complete 42 hours of college courses including the RTVF requirements listed below with a UNT grade point average of 2.75 or better and a C or better in the RTVF courses. A student may apply for RTVF major status during the semester he or she will complete the RTVF major requirements.

However, admission to the RTVF major is on a space-available basis and is highly competitive. The number of new majors admitted each semester is limited by available resources, and not all pre-majors who apply will be awarded RTVF major status. Admission to the RTVF major is based on review of a candidate's formal application by the RTVF Admissions Committee. Students who wish to become RTVF majors should contact the RTVF department office prior to each semester's deadline to obtain an application. The deadline for application will be announced each semester. Applications are reviewed soon after the deadline by the RTVF Admissions Committee and those students admitted to the major will be allowed to register for major courses for the following semester.

A holistic review by the RTVF Admissions Committee of applicants for RTVF major status will include:

- overall UNT GPA;
- grades in RTVF pre-major courses;
- previous paid or volunteer work related to RTVF; and
- maturity, leadership and creative talent as demonstrated in class.

Before applying for RTVF major status, a pre-major must first:

1. Complete at least 42 hours of college courses including:
 - a. the Writeplacer Plus Essay examination with a grade of eight (8) or better (see RTVF department for details);
 - b. COMM 1010;
 - c. the English composition requirement with a grade of C or better;
 - d. the College of Arts and Sciences math requirement (see approved list, or the placement equivalent);
 - e. the foreign language requirement at least through the 1020 level (or the placement equivalent).

Minimum Standards for Continued Enrollment in RTVF Courses

1. RTVF courses 1310, 1320 and 2210 with a grade of C or better. Students earning less than a C in any one of these three courses will be allowed to repeat that course only once. Students failing to earn a C or better on the second attempt will not be allowed to repeat 1310, 1320 or 2210 for a third time and will lose their PRTF status in the department.
2. Have at least a 2.75 UNT GPA. RTVF majors must maintain a UNT GPA of 2.75. RTVF major students whose GPAs fall below this standard will be informed of their status by the RTVF department and will not be able to take any classes in the RTVF department until they return their UNT GPA to 2.75 or better.

Requirements To Enroll in RTVF 1310, 1320 or 2210

Students who wish to enroll in RTVF 1310, 1320 or 2210 must have active RTVF pre-major (PRTF) status. To be classified active PRTF:

1. Entering freshmen with no college credit must successfully complete at least 12 hours of UNT college core requirements with a UNT GPA of 2.75 or better. Upon completion of this requirement, students may apply to the RTVF department to activate their pre-major status and become eligible to enroll in RTVF 1310, 1320 or 2210.
2. Transfer students with college credit must transfer a minimum of 12 college core hours accepted by UNT with a grade of 2.75 or better. Students who do not meet this requirement must successfully complete at least 12 hours of college core hours at UNT with a GPA of 2.75 or better. Upon completion of this requirement, students may apply to the RTVF department to activate their pre-major status and become eligible to enroll in RTVF 1310, 1320 and 2210.

Note: Pre-majors will not be able to register for any upper-level RTVF courses until full-major status is attained.

Bachelor of Arts with a major in Radio, Television and Film Degree Requirements

1. Hours Required and General/College Requirements: A minimum of 120 semester hours, of which 42 must be advanced, and fulfillment of degree requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree as specified in the “General University Requirements” in the Academics section of this catalog and the College of Arts and Sciences requirements.

Students interested in a major in RTVF must apply to the department after successfully completing the pre-major requirements specified under “Admission to the RTVF Major,” above.

2. Major Requirements: Students must complete 45 hours (at least 33 advanced) in the major, including RTVF 1310, 1320 and 2210; 3 hours credit in RTVF writing course, RTVF 2010; 6 hours of advanced credit in production and performance courses selected from RTVF 3210, 3220, 3230, 3300, 3330, 3340, 3482, 3483, 3501, 3502, 3560, 3650, 3750, 4140, 4400, 4411, 4412, 4413, 4740, 4750, 4760, 4810 or 4820; 6 hours of advanced credit in industry studies courses selected from RTVF 3325, 3430, 4320, 4420, 4430, 4440, 4445, 4450, 4455, 4510, 4670 or 4850; 6 hours of advanced credit in history or criticism courses selected from RTVF 3450, 3470, 3475, 3610, 4110, 4120, 4200, 4340, 4410, 4415, 4550; and 15 hours of advanced RTVF electives. No more than 6 hours of RTVF practicum, internship or special problem courses may be applied to the 45 hours of RTVF courses required for the degree. All RTVF major students must take RTVF 2010, Introduction to RTVF Writing, to fulfill the writing requirement.

3. Minor: Optional.

4. Electives: See four-year plan.

5. Other Requirements: Only 12 hours of RTVF courses taken at other institutions may be applied toward the 45-hour requirement.

Students majoring in radio/television/film are required to have a minimum grade of C in all RTVF courses to receive RTVF credit. Students may have only two attempts for a grade of C or better for each required RTVF course.

Students must observe prerequisites for each RTVF course. If a student has not completed prerequisites for a course with a grade of C or better, the student is subject to administrative drop from the course without notice. Prerequisites are listed with individual course descriptions.

Because of the high demand for many RTVF courses, students who miss the first class without consent of the instructor are subject to be dropped from the course so that other students may be added. Students who miss the first day of class because of illness or some other acceptable excuse should notify the department office the day of the absence.

Students may register for only one section of a course at a time. Students registered for more than one section of a course will be dropped from all sections of that course without notice. The policy does not apply to courses such as special topics, which may bear the same course number but are different courses.

Aural competency in distinguishing discrete sounds, and visual competency in distinguishing shapes, forms, colors and movements are required to complete RTVF critical studies courses. Additional visual competency to utilize studio and location equipment and manual dexterity to operate equipment are required to complete RTVF production courses. Articulation competency to achieve broadcast industry standards may be required. Specific competency and departmental approval for internship, seminar and special problems courses are required.

BA with a Major in Radio/Television/Film

The following four-year plan is one example of a variety of ways in which you can complete your chosen degree in four years, and will serve as guide for you to design your pathway to degree completion. Variations will depend on whether you need to take prerequisites or have college credit from exams or dual enrollment.

The College of Arts and Sciences expects you to have completed the State recommended high school program and be ready to enroll for Language 2040 or a mathematics course above college algebra. If you are not prepared for this level, the necessary prerequisites will either replace electives or increase the hours required for the degree.

Bachelor of Arts with a Major in Electronic News

Electronic news is a relatively new major, developed collaboratively with the Frank W. and Sue Mayborn School of Journalism. Electronic News is housed and advised in the Department of Radio, Television and Film but includes courses taught by faculty in the Mayborn School of Journalism. The major prepares UNT students for professional careers in television, radio and Internet-based news operations on the local, national and international levels, plus careers in corporate and multi-channel television.

The major integrates a broad and thorough overview of the ever-changing electronic news media, with intermediate and advanced courses in writing and reporting for radio, television and the Internet; interviewing and performance; shooting and editing for television; television and radio news producing; news media analysis; electronic news management; plus classes in legal and ethical issues and covering cross-cultural communities. Students further develop their skills through NTTV, KNTU-FM, NT Daily and their web sites. An optional certificate in television news producing is also available within the major.

To qualify, students must successfully complete the GSP (Grammar, Spelling and Punctuation test), and must complete at least 45 hours of college courses before applying for major status (see "Admission to the Major" above). 6. Other Requirements: Only 12 hours of RTVF/JOUR courses taken at other institutions may be applied toward the major.

Students majoring in radio/television/film are required to have a minimum grade of C in all RTVF/JOUR courses to graduate. Students may have only two attempts for a grade of C or better for each RTVF/JOUR course.

Students must observe prerequisites for each RTVF/JOUR course. If a student has not completed prerequisites for a course with a grade of C or better, the student is subject to administrative drop from the course without notice. Prerequisites are listed with individual course descriptions.
