Introduction

The Department of Rehabilitation, Social Work and Addictions offers a graduate degree in rehabilitation counseling. Undergraduate degrees are offered in human service management and leadership (BS), rehabilitation studies (BS) and in social work (BSW). In addition, a minor and two different certificates in substance abuse and addictions and one certificate in rehabilitation studies are available.

Upon graduation, students are qualified for positions in a variety of human service settings, including mental health centers, hospitals, mental retardation programs, rehabilitation programs, child welfare settings, correctional facilities, aging programs, community living facilities, private nonprofit human service programs and alcohol and drug abuse programs, among others. Labor market trends forecast continued growth in human service professions. The undergraduate degrees also prepare students for entry into graduate programs in rehabilitation or social work, often with advanced standing.

The department's undergraduate programs are structured to meet the needs and interests of students transferring from community colleges. Transfer students receive close advising to facilitate articulation.

Extensive practical experience in community placements is combined with comprehensive classroom curricula to build an in-depth and well-rounded program. A low faculty/student ratio allows students to receive highly individualized academic support from instructors. A College of Public Affairs and Community Service degree program advisor plays a significant role in the development of a degree plan that meets the individual student's needs and interests.

Social work graduates are eligible to take the examination for licensure as a social worker by the State of Texas. Students completing either degree program can meet the educational portion of the requirements for licensure as a chemical dependency counselor.

Upon admission into the program, the student is assigned an academic advisor. The student works with that advisor in the development of a degree plan and throughout the academic program until graduation.

Minor in Human Service Management and Leadership (available at Dallas campus only)

A minor in human service management and leadership requires 18 semester credit hours, including a minimum of 6 advanced hours. The minor requires the following three courses: HSML 3000, Human Service in the Nonprofit Sector; HSML 4700, Program Planning and Evaluation; and FINA 3770, Finance. The student and the faculty advisor for the human service program jointly select the remaining 9 hours.

Minor in Human Services

Human services is an emerging professional identity and there is a high demand for trained human service workers in many settings.

A minor in human services requires the completion of RHAB 3000 and SOWK 1450, plus four courses selected from the following: RHAB 3050, 3100, 3200, 3400, 3900, 4100, 4450, and SOWK 2430, 3500, 3870 or 4540. Students must take courses from at least two of the following areas: social work, addictions and rehabilitation studies.

Minor in Rehabilitation Studies

Because of its compatibility with other human service fields, rehabilitation provides an appropriate minor for students majoring in such areas as psychology, social work, recreation, aging, health education and criminal justice. A minor in rehabilitation is composed of RHAB 3100, 3200, 4700, plus three other rehabilitation courses selected by the student and the advisor.

Minor in Substance Abuse and Addictions

The minor in substance abuse and addictions is designed for students interested in working with persons experiencing addictive disorders. The minor may fulfill the educational requirements for licensure as a chemical dependency counselor. Courses cover all levels of alcohol and drug use, as well as other behavioral addictions; their symptomology, personal and social impacts, and treatment. The minor consists of the following courses: RHAB 3050 and 4125, along with any four of the following: RHAB 3250, 4050, 4150, 4250, 4350 and 4450. Students seeking licensure are strongly advised to take RHAB 4050, 4150 and 4250.

Undergraduate Academic Certificates

Rehabilitation Studies

The undergraduate academic certificate in rehabilitation studies provides students with the fundamental knowledge and skills for interaction with individuals with disabilities. This certificate is recommended for students in other disciplines who seek a basic understanding of the disability experience or who wish to add disability-related knowledge and skills to their professional preparation. Students must complete four courses, including RHAB 3100, 3200, 3900 and 4700.

Substance Abuse Treatment

The undergraduate academic certificate in substance abuse treatment provides a basic foundation for becoming a licensed chemical dependency counselor for those whose degree is in a state (Department of Human Services) approved major. Completion of the certificate also contributes to skills applicable in any human service field. Required courses are RHAB 3050, 4050 4125, and 4150.

Substance Abuse Studies

The undergraduate academic certificate in substance abuse studies allows students to pursue their own interests in substance abuse and treatment. It allows the flexibility to study any area of alcohol and drug abuse for personal or professional application other than counselor licensure. RHAB 3050 is required as a foundation course. Students can then choose any other three addictions courses (RHAB 3250, 4050, 4125, 4150, 4250, 4350 or 4450) to complete the certificate.

Scholarships

Students majoring in rehabilitation studies are eligible to apply for the Rehabilitation Services Administration, Fort Worth Area Chapter Texas Rehabilitation Association and the Ken Miner Memorial scholarships, available only to undergraduate and graduate students in the rehabilitation program. Applications are available in February in the departmental office. Students interested in applying for these scholarships should contact the coordinator of the rehabilitation program.

Application to the Major and Pre-Major Courses

Students may indicate an intention of majoring in social work at any point during the early part of their academic career by declaring a pre-social work major. They may consult with social work and College of Public Affairs and Community Service advisors regarding degree requirements at any time. However, formal acceptance into the social work major occurs only after completion of the designated pre-major courses, completion of a term-by-term (semester-by-semester) course plan with the social work advisor, and submission and approval of a formal application for admission. Applications to the major are due on approximately the 30th calendar day of the term/semester in which pre-major courses are in process or are completed. Applications are accepted during the fall and spring terms/semesters only. The number of available slots is limited, so admission may be restricted. An application form and instructions are available in the department office. Students must adhere to the program's course sequencing and prerequisite schedule. The 12-credit-hour block practicum is offered during the fall and spring terms/semesters and requires approximately 32–35 hours per week in an agency over the term/semester, for a total of no less than 420 hours.

Pre-major courses include: SOWK 1450 and 2430 (each with a minimum grade of C), SOCI 1520, BIOL 1112 and PSYC 1630.
