SECRET EVALUATION AGENT® JOB OFFER - FLEXIBLE HOURS!!

What does an Evaluation Agent do ?

Evaluation Agents visit specific stores like Walmart, Argos, Harrolds, Selfridges, Restaurants etc, And businesses anonymously for the purpose of observing and reporting on the quality of customer service delivered. The answers submitted by our Evaluation Agents enable clients to make employment decisions, reward staff for excellent performance, redirect staff who perform poorly and evaluate adherence to company service standards. The Evaluation Agents process begins with on-line training, depending on the job assignment. After completing initial education our agents are able to select assignments, complete jobs by visiting a site or performing a telephone evaluation and finally entering job data into the online database.

Why should I become an Evaluation Agent ?

Being an Evaluation Agent is well suited to anyone who would benefit from:

- * Receiving free products and/or services (on certain assignments).
- * Highly flexible hours.
- * Contributing to a higher level of customer service.
- * Having a diverse number of shopping experiences.
- * You'll be able to participate in educational sessions via online training; you do not pay for this.

How much does an Evaluation Agent get paid ?

Evaluation Agents are independent contractors who receive rewards in the form of gift vouchers, or bank deposits. In addition, on many assignments, free goods and/or services are also available. The amount you will get paid varies by the type of assignment you complete. Payments generally range between $300 to $400 per assignment.

Do Evaluation Agents work part-time or full-time ?

Evaluation Agents should be considered part-time or casual work.

Do I need previous experience as an Evaluation Agent ?

NO, previous experience is not necessary. Agents are recruited based on the information provided in their online application form, their aptitude and ability to meet assignment requirements. Evaluation Agent Online offers extensive online training which will broaden your understanding of the Evaluation Agent industry, and assist you in becoming a highly effective Evaluation Agent.

Remember, NO APPLICATION FEES, It DOES NOT cost you anything to get started. Send a reply to ██████████@impetusautomotive.com
