AREAS of RESEARCH

- Organization, control, and access to information resources, including cataloging rules and encoding standards (RDA, AACR2, MARC21, etc.), knowledge classification systems (LCC, DDC)
- LIS education in information organization
- Bibliometrics and scholarly and scientific communication
- Information behavior
- History and foundation of library and information sciences, history of science
- Theory development in library and information science

TEACHING and PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Associate Professor		2009-
Assistant Professor	Dept. of Library and Information Sciences, College of Information University of North Texas	2002-2009
Associate Director	Interdisciplinary Information Science PhD Program (IISPhD) College of Information University of North Texas	2011-2013

LIS Courses (web-based and classroom)
- 5000 Introduction to the Information Profession (core)
- 5200 Information Organization (core)
- 5210 Resource Description and Access I
- 5220 Resource Description and Access II
- 5212 Dewey Decimal Classification
- 6000 Seminar in Information Science
- 6200 Theory Development in Library and Information Sciences
- 6700 Seminar in Communication and Use of Information
- 6740 Scholarly and Scientific Communication

Visiting Instructor/ Assistant Instructor	School of Information Studies Florida State University	1998-2002

- Information Representation
- Cataloging and Classification
- Information Organization (web-based)
- Foundations (web-based and classroom)

- Subject Analysis
- Information Sources and Services
- Internet Evaluation

GRANTS and RESEARCH PROJECTS

Principal Investigator "A Survey of the Extent and Utilization of Cataloging   2005-2006
Tools and Resources within Technical Services in the North Texas Public Libraries" $14,600
A study funded by an OCLC/ALISE Library Research Grant to discover the extent and utilization of cataloging tools and resources within technical service departments in the 104 public libraries in the North Texas Regional Library System (NTRLS).

Co-Principal Investigator "Examining Present Practices to Inform Future   2004-2007
Metadata Use: An Empirical Analysis of MARC
Content Designation Utilization" $233,000
Funded by The Institute of Museum and Library Studies (IMLS), a National Leadership Grant. The projects focuses on investigating the coding of information and metadata utilization in one million Machine-Readable Catalog (MARC) records from the OCLC WorldCat database.

Lead Thesaurus Developer Library Technology Now Project   2003-2007
http://www.librarytechnologynow.org
Partnering with North Texas Regional Library System (NTRLS).

Principal Investigator "Developing a bibliometric methodology   2002-2003 for a comprehensive measurement of the intellectual history of research fronts" $3000
Develop a methodology employing co-citation analysis, bibliometric coupling, and content analysis in order that a comprehensive intellectual history of two research fronts can be examined and measured.

Project Manager "Interactivity in Web-based Learning"   2000-2002

FSU School of Information Studies
Dr. Kathleen Burnett and
Dr. Laurie Bonnici, Principal Investigators

Developed content analysis code for coding interactive classroom log files, supervise the coders, and coordinate meetings of entire project staff.
