

PLACE CODES

The five-digit series of Place Codes are constructed in such a way that the first three (3) digits identify the county in which the community is located. Also, for risks that are located outside community, county codes are provided with the last two digits being 00. The third digit or middle number of all these codes will be an odd number except when a community is located in more than one county; In that event, the middle number will be the next even number (higher order) than the county's normal third digit number. Following an even third digit number will be a unique two-digit number for a given community, permitting the accumulation of all the data for that community irrespective of county location.

Example:	Community - Austin	If risk is inside community limits code: - 45 4 58
	County - Travis	If risk is outside community limits code: - 45300
