

TEXAS WORKERS' COMPENSATION COMMISSION
QUESTION/RESOLUTION LOG
PREPARED BY CUSTOMER SERVICES

DATE REC'D	QUESTION/PROBLEM	DATE ANS'D	RESOLUTION
2-15-06 06-05	1. Can the AWW for computing TIBs for a school district employee be adjusted to zero during Christmas break and other such breaks (such as spring break) under Rule 128.7(d) if the employee would not have earned wages during the break for dates of injury on or after 12-1-01? 2. Can the AWW for computing IIBs, LIBs, or SIBs for a school district employee be adjusted to zero during this type of break?	2-23-06	This answer applies to date of injury on or after 12-1-01 1. Yes, Rule 128.7(d) (3) allows the average weekly wage for TIBs be adjusted to zero for a period a school district employee would not have earned wages and no minimum benefit payment may be required. 2. No, the AWW cannot be reduced to zero for IIBs, LIBs, or SIBs for a school district employee according to Rule 128.7(e).