Description:

On April 20, 2007, the Employment and Training Administration announced a grant competition for approximately $5 million to be appropriated for the National Farmworker Jobs Program (NFJP), Housing Assistance, both permanent and temporary. Housing assistance is a tool to improve economic outcomes for Farmworkers and is included as a supportive service to assist Farmworkers to retain employment or enter into and/or remain in training. The NFJP regulations consider housing assistance one of a number of related assistance and/or supportive services available to eligible Farmworkers through the NFJP. Examples of the entities eligible to apply for a grant award include the workforce investment system, state agencies, faith-based and community organizations, and non-profit organizations. This Webinar will provide an overview of the Solicitation for Grant Application, review the eligible applicants, review pertinent financial requirements, and review the grant requirements and evaluation criteria. Questions from prospective applicants will be addressed in an interactive question platform during the Webinar. The Webinar will be archived and placed on Workforce<sup>3</sup> One and <http://www.doleta.gov/msfw/> to allow the Webinar participants and other prospective applicants access to the presentation, and the questions and answers.
