

PRISM System Accessibility Restriction Diagram

Components within the shaded area reside within the same physical environment and all data traveling over the connections stays within the boundaries of Row 57 at the State Data Center and is never transmitted through the public domain.