Seminar 1:00 - 4:00 p.m.

Northwest Community Credit Union
3660 Gateway Street, Springfield, OR

Want to assure a smooth business flow?
Are you concerned about customer retention?
Worried about disrupting your workplace balance?
How can the baton be passed from one generation to another?

Our workplaces are filled with soon-to- retire Baby Boomers. Many are impatient to move on, yet some are hesitant - worried that the values they embrace are being abandoned for something they don't understand. These differences can be perceived as threats, and they can lead to an unwillingness to train, mentor, and accept one another.

Join our panel of workplace experts who understand the generational mix and will share their valuable insights and expertise. You can expect to go back to your workplace with ideas and plans you can implement to make these transitions smoother as you keep your business flowing efficiently, retain your customer base, and minimize disruptions to your workplace equilibrium.

Cost: $49 per person; $39 each additional employee. Seating is limited. Register by October 27, 2008
