

Present a complimentary business breakfast seminar:

Flex Options for the Multigenerational Workplace

At this free seminar for employers and HR professionals:

- Learn the innovative approaches regional and local employers are using to meet the challenges of a modern, multigenerational workplace
- Find out what kinds of flexibility practices help to motivate, retain and recruit members of each of the four generations in today's workplace
- Share ideas and strategies with other Portland area employers
- Gain resources, skills and knowledge you can immediately implement in your company or agency

Flex Options Seminar Panelists will include:

Connie Scheppe
Human Resources Manager
The Regence Group
Portland

Jay Bloom
CEO, Bloom Anew
and Interim CEO,
United Way of the Columbia-Willamette

Kathy Greenidge
Director of Human Resources & Operations
Homestead Capital, Portland

Kylie Penn
Job Recruiter, Comcast Cable
Beaverton

Cindy Spence
Business Developer and Consultant

Who Should Attend: Company owners; public & private sector executives, managers, and HR professionals

When: Friday, September 19, 2008, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Where: The Small Business Administration, 601 SW 2nd Ave., Portland, OR 97204
ODS Training Room, Suite 2030, (20th Floor)

Pre-registration is requested by Sept. 17. You may register online at <http://www.antiochsea.edu/ce/courses-management.html#flex> by email: ce@antiochseattle.edu or by phone: 206-268-4111.

This event is free of charge thanks to the generous underwriting of the U.S. Department of Labor and support from the U.S. Small Business Administration and co-sponsoring agencies and organizations.

