DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Hawaii has long been recognized as an environmentally attractive place to do business. This “natural” advantage would not exist, however, were it not for the efforts of the businesses, non-profit organizations, and governmental agencies identified in this Directory of Environmental Businesses in Hawaii. Hawaii’s environmental industry is a vital part of our State’s infrastructure, and critical to maintaining our quality of life.

This Directory, published by the Department of Business, Economic Development & Tourism (DBEDT), serves as a revision and expansion of a February 1997 State of Hawaii Department of Health (DOH) Environmental Services in Hawaii directory. That directory was funded through the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and co-sponsored by DBEDT.

While this directory attempts to list the major environmental businesses in the State of Hawaii, we recognize there are inherent constraints in identifying all appropriate businesses.

The original DOH directory relied on a questionnaire sent to businesses identified through the 1996-1997 Hawaii Business Directory falling under specific Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes, and to Environmental & Ecological Services and Recycling Centers listings in the 1996 GTE Hawaiian Tel Yellow Pages. This directory is based on responses to a survey sent to all entries in the DOH directory, and to all businesses in a current database of recycling businesses developed by DBEDT’s Clean Hawaii Center. In addition, 15,500 surveys were distributed as an insert in the October 22, 1999 issue of the Pacific Business News. Environmental and related listings in the 1999-2000 GTE Hawaiian Tel Yellow Pages for all four Hawaii counties were cross-checked and additional businesses added as a result. Nevertheless not all businesses that might qualify for inclusion have been identified, some have not responded to our request for information, a few have asked not to be included, and some that did respond do not qualify for inclusion.

The phrase “environmental business” is also awkward when used to differentiate between those that should appear in the directory and those that should not. Increasingly many, if not most, businesses are incorporating “environmental” activities into their operations, if for no other reason than to reduce waste disposal costs. Other businesses, especially professionals such as consultants, architects and engineers, may devote a portion of their practice or operations to environmental pursuits even though that is not their primary focus or source of revenues. Still other businesses such as document shredding services or trash haulers are unquestionably environmental businesses, yet they do not necessarily classify themselves as such.

Consequently, this directory is not a comprehensive listing of environmental or waste management businesses for the State of Hawaii, nor is it intended as an endorsement of the companies listed. The information that appears here may not be accurate or complete. We encourage and appreciate industry and public feedback to update and improve this directory.

This directory may also be accessed via the Internet at <http://www.hawaii.gov/dbedt/ert/chc/debh.html>.

FUNCTION CATEGORIES

There are many ways to categorize the various steps, processes, and stages of recycling, remanufacturing, reuse, and other environmental activities involved in handling individual, commercial, and industrial waste streams. The function categories used in the following pages are defined here.

SUPPORT FUNCTIONS

- Networking Trade/industry association, other networking, business communication, or service organization.
- Training Education/training in environmental matters as a consultant or provider of instruction.
- Consulting Consulting on environmental matters, architectural, engineering or design services, or environmental business development activities other than training.
- Regulate/Test Licensing, certification, or regulation of environmental businesses or activities, including monitoring, testing or analysis activities.
- Supply/Support Supplier of specialized equipment, supplies, or services to environmental businesses, or in some cases to the public (e.g., alternate energy equipment and supplies).

INPUT FUNCTIONS

- Generation/Source Generation of source materials (feedstock) in forms amenable to resource recovery or input into environmental processes. Includes identification and separation of recyclable materials resulting from manufacturing processes or road and building construction and demolition activities.
- Collection/Hauling Collection or consolidation functions, including pick-up, hauling, drop-off sites, and other types of collection activities.
- Sorting Primary processing - sorting, separating, or other activities that discriminate among materials for further handling or production. Activities may include grading, removal of contaminants, densifying, baling, and otherwise preparing the materials for shipment to manufacturing facilities for production of recycled content product.
- Reduction Primary processing - reducing materials through deconstruction, shredding, grinding, crushing, or other means for direct applications (e.g., mulch, road base aggregate) or as a raw material for further processing or use in manufacturing functions (e.g., computer boards and chips from electronics recycling). May include sorting by color, screening, grading and monitoring size and quality.

PRODUCTION FUNCTIONS

- Exchange Materials exchange facilities or other reuse centers or outlets. Includes drop-off sites where items are available for recovery by end users.
- Refining Secondary processing - remanufacturing, refining, treating, mixing or otherwise generating added value input materials suitable for industrial or commercial processes or production, or for direct sale as a finished material (e.g., silver from film recovery operations, or other metals recovered from electronic or computer circuit boards).
- Manufacturing Tertiary processing - manufacturing or creation of recycled content consumer products in whole or part from resources generated through the input functions. Includes waste to energy operations.

OUTPUT FUNCTIONS

- Wholesale/Retail Brokering, marketing, selling, or otherwise arranging ownership transfers of marketable items to buyers. Includes brokering at all levels of recycling, from generation to final products.
- Distribute/Install Distribution activities including packaging, storage, delivery, as well as installation or professional application activities.
- Use/Dispose Consumption, use, or disposal, including industrial or business usage, incineration, landfilling and other types of disposal, for non-recyclable or end-of-life waste streams.

Are You An "Environmental" Business?

Are you primarily involved in recycling, remanufacturing, reuse, conservation or related activities such as consulting, training, design, testing, or providing other environmental services or supply?

If so, the State wants to include you FREE in its next update to the Directory of Environmental Businesses in Hawaii.

The Directory is distributed free of charge to the public and to other businesses locally, nationally, and internationally, and is an important way to identify your business involvement in Hawaii's environmental economy. Please take a few minutes to fill out this questionnaire and return to the address shown below. Mahalo.
