PREFACE

During 1988 and 1989, approximately 2,600 firms and individuals throughout the state filed approximately 7,600 forms to register their water sources and to declare their water uses to the state Commission on Water Resource Management. This document is one of two volumes which summarize the information reported to the Commission through the registration and declaration process.

Volume I: Declarations Summarized by File Reference
Volume II: Location Data Sorted by Tax Map Key

This report includes only those water sources and uses made known to the Commission through the registration and declaration process. Future updates of this work are expected to include water sources developed after 1988 as made known to the Commission through its permitting processes, and updated water use information as made known to the Commission through water use reporting.

This report was prepared by Bill Rozeboom and Anne Okamura of the Commission staff.

REGISTRATION AND DECLARATION REQUIREMENTS

The registration and declaration requirements followed three sections of the 1987 State Water Code, HRS Chapter 174C. Part II of the Code, "Reports of Water Use", required that any person making a use of water in any area of the state must file a declaration of that water use. Part VII of the Code, "Wells", required that any person owning or operating any well must register the well. Part VIII of the Code, "Stream Diversion Works", required that any person owning or operating any stream diversions works must register the diversion works.

Forms to register sources and declare water uses which existed as of May 27, 1988, the effective date of the Administrative Rules of the State Water Code, were required to be filed with the Commission on Water Resource Management by May 30, 1989.

NUMBER AND CONTENT OF FORMS RECEIVED

The number of declarants reported as being on file with the Commission is periodically adjusted to reflect late filings and consolidations of files. File consolidations are undertaken at the request of declarants and in other cases where multiple parties, often at the same address, have filed declarations for a common water use or interest. For example, one consolidated file contains declarations by 198 different individuals for the same use of water on a single property.

As of September 1992, there were 2,387 water use declarant files. Of these files, 212 (9%) were incomplete. Filers of incomplete declarations had been contacted by letter in February 1991 to request specific information needed to complete their declaration(s) and warned that failure to respond might result in the presumption that they did not have any sources to be registered or did not make any reasonable and beneficial use of water.

Forms to register water sources and declare water uses had been developed for reporting of wells and stream diversions which existed as of 1988, and uses of water therefrom. However, information submitted to the Commission in many instances included claims for water rights, proposed future uses of water, and instream activities. The overall content of the declarations is summarized below.

Content of Declaration	% of Declarants
Active well(s) or stream diversion(s)	72%
Unused developed water source(s)	23%
Claim for water rights	34%
Proposed future use(s) of water	20%
Instream activity, no diversion	10%

The above summary reflects the contents of the 2,175 declaration files which were complete as of September 1992. The total in the percentage column adds to more than 100% because many declarants submitted more than one type of information.

INFORMATION ACCURACY

The information contained in this report is based on the declarations of water use and supplemental information submitted to the Commission on Water Resource Management. The data have generally not been verified and are subject to confirmation through field inspections before being recognized by the Commission.
