

good jobs. better pay. brighter future.

Career

Voyages

careervoyages.gov

Your Road Map to:

Occupations that are in-demand nationally and within your state, as well as emerging occupations

Career videos that give you a glimpse into real-life people doing different jobs

Detailed occupation reports including wages, growth rates, and education requirements

Specialized resources for students, parents, career changers, and career advisors

Education and training options to get you started in the occupation of your choice

Industry information and links to connect with private sector programs and opportunities

Career Voyages has something for everyone. Whether you are interested in:

- on-the-job training,
- apprenticeship certification,
- vocational certificates,
- two-year professional degree programs at community colleges, or
- four-year bachelor degrees

Career Voyages will help you access the tools to start a promising career.

With its focus on high growth industries and in-demand occupations, www.CareerVoyages.gov should be in the electronic tool box of every person interested in career development.

The U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. Department of Education developed this web site to provide Americans with information and tools to build careers in high-growth industries and in-demand occupations. For more information, contact us at Career.Voyages@dol.gov or 202-693-3624.