SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Food Stamp Program Pre-Screening Tool.

OMB Number: 0584-0519.

Expiration Date: May 31, 2005.

Type of Request: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Abstract: In June 2003 the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) deployed an interactive web-based food stamp pre-screening tool that can be utilized by the general public to determine potential Food Stamp Program eligibility. A previous notice was published in the Federal Register on May 10, 2002 at 67 FR 31760. The tool has two components. The first component helps the users determine their eligibility for food stamps. Once the user enters household size, income, expenses and resource information, the tool will calculate and provide the user with an estimated range of benefits that the household may be eligible to receive. Other data collected are:

- ID (Each entry is assigned a unique identifier)

- State (System stores answer to required entry: which state or territory the user is from)
 - Number of Children (System stores required entry: number of children in the household)
 - Number of Elderly (System stores required entry: number of elderly members in the household)
 - Migrant Workers (System stores required entry: is anyone in the household a seasonal or migrant farm worker)
 - Homeless (System stores required entry: is the household homeless or living in a shelter)
 - User Type (System stores required entry: who is using the tool)
 - User Referral (System stores required entry: how the user heard about the tool)
 - Amount (System stores tool output: if user was eligible to receive benefits and if so the estimated range of benefits)

Since food stamp eligibility and benefit amount may vary by location, FNS makes it clear that the tool is only an estimator, and the household will need to contact the local agency to determine actual eligibility and the appropriate benefit amount.

FNS does not retain any specific identifying information like last names, social security numbers, birthdays, etc about the household itself in the tool; however, the system does request the following information during the initial process in which the user enters data:

 - The State in which the user resides;
 - Whether the user is using the tool for personal reasons or on behalf of others;
 - If they are using it on the behalf of others; the user will be asked to identify him/herself (e.g., relative of a person in need, advocacy organization, faith-based group, etc.) using a drop down menu.

Note: The above information is not retained once the user logs out of the system.

The second component is a formal survey appended to this tool. This information will help FNS to determine the degree of usage, the need for modifying the tool and potential areas for further study.

The optional Survey Component consists of responses to the following items:

- Gender (System stores optional survey entry: User gender)
 - Zip Code (System stores optional survey entry: User zip code)
 - Current Food Stamp Participation (System stores optional survey entry: Is user currently receiving food stamp benefits)
 - Past Food Stamp Participation (System stores optional survey entry: Has user ever received food stamps)

- Will Apply (System stores optional survey entry: Will the user apply for food stamps)
 - Tool Ease (System stores optional survey entry: Was the tool easy to use)
 - Changed Mind (System stores optional survey entry: Did the result of the screening change the likelihood that the user will apply for benefits)
 - Completed Survey (System stores tool output: Was a survey completed (partially, in full or not at all)
 - Comments (System stores optional survey entry: User comments)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Purpose and Need. Current conditions on the landscape indicate that forests are moving toward late seral stages, with stand structure becoming more complex and more susceptible to stand replacement events. Stands once dominated by large trees (greater than 21 inches in diameter) have a steadily increasing amount of smaller trees. In many areas the large trees do not dominate the forest sufficiently to provide adequately for species that depend on late- and old-structure habitat. Overcrowding and competition with the young, smaller trees are causing the large-tree component to decline. This may occur slowly through insect/disease outbreaks, or more rapidly through large-scale fire events.

In addition to unhealthy conditions for large trees, mortality resulting from insect and disease outbreaks has created dead fuel build up. High levels of blowdown in some areas increase the fuel loadings. Some lodgepole pine stands have an overstory that is in poor condition, with heavy mistletoe in some cases. This poses a condition that could
