Genealogical Interactive Distance Learning Programs
Offered by the National Archives-Central Plains Region
2312 E. Bannister Rd.
Kansas City, MO 64131
816-268-8000
kansascity.educate@nara.gov

Each program lasts 45 minutes to an hour. Programs may be scheduled Monday-Friday, 9am-4pm. Please make arrangements one month or more in advance.

Note: The National Archives-Central Plains Region utilizes ISDN lines only.

Title: Introduction to Naturalizations
Audience: Genealogists and Library Staff
Description: Learn about the types of records in the naturalization process and the most effective ways to structure your genealogical research.

Title: How to Use the Archival Research Catalog
Audience: Genealogists and Library Staff
Description: Not sure how to research using ARC? The presentation will cover searching hints and tips as well as give a better understanding of how the holdings at the National Archives are cataloged, described and made available for public use.
  Requirements: Host libraries must provide a live internet connection and projection to a large screen.

Title: Introduction to Genealogy Research
Audience: Genealogists and Library Staff
Description: Overall introduction to genealogy research and records housed at the National Archives. Covers census, military, naturalization, and immigration records. Recommended for beginning researchers.

Title: Internet and the Genealogist
Audience: Genealogists and Library Staff
Description: Within the past five years, the Internet has become the pointer to genealogical tips and records that has forever changed genealogical research. As records are transcribed and placed on the web what does the genealogist need to look for in this rapidly changing environment?