This resource was developed in partial fulfillment of a grant from the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the United States Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, entitled:

Urban Pest Management Policy and Programs: Applied Pilot Studies in Michigan, under the direction of Dr. Christina DiFonzo, MSU Pesticide Education Program and Dr. R. James Bingen, Department of Resource Development, Michigan State University.

October 2001

All lessons in this resource as well as updates and links can be found on the internet at: www.pested.msu.edu

Special Thanks

We would like to thank all of the individuals who helped test many of these lessons during the 2000-2001 school year at Emerson Elementary School in Saginaw, Michigan. We tested these ideas in a slightly different format as an IPM classroom. Modeled after the G.A.P. Agribusiness classroom, the Integrated Pest Management (IPM) classroom brought facilitated activities/lessons or field trips on related topics to both 4th grade classes at Emerson once a week for the entire school year. Erica Jenkins, Demetrius Swilley, Kim Thiel and Lorna Keaner co-taught the class to all 53 4th grade students at Emerson Elementary. We are indebted to all who participated in this endeavor including the following:

Ting Bienvenida	Graduate Student, Resource Development Department, Michigan State University
Lorna Keaner	Teacher, Emerson Elementary, Saginaw School District
Charles Lee	Custodian, Emerson Elementary, Saginaw School District
Sam Maisano	Science Coordinator, Saginaw School District
Donald Scott	Assistant Superintendent, Saginaw School District; Saginaw IPM Program Director
Larry Swain	Community Program Manager, Pesticide Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture
Demetrius Swilley	G.A.P. (Growth and Afrocentric Program) Agribusiness Facilitator
Kim Thiel	Teacher, Emerson Elementary, Saginaw School District
Lawrence Watson	G.A.P. Program Manager; Saginaw IPM Program Outreach chairperson
Dr. Lawrence Wells	Principal, Emerson Elementary, Saginaw School District
