

THE HONORABLE JOHN F. MCCABE
MAGISTRATE JUDGE
SUPERIOR COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

John McCabe was appointed a Magistrate Judge by Chief Judge Rufus J. King III on October 21, 2002.

Judge McCabe was born in New York and raised in New Jersey. He graduated from Duke University in 1980 with a degree in economics, and received his J.D., cum laude, from Tulane University Law School in 1986.

Following law school, Judge McCabe was an associate at a law firm in Atlanta from 1986 to 1989. From 1989 to 1990, he was a staff attorney at the Legal Aid Society for the District of Columbia, and represented indigent clients in domestic relations and public benefits proceedings. From 1990 to 1998, Judge McCabe was an Assistant Corporation Counsel with the Office of the Corporation Counsel (now the Office of the Attorney General) in Washington, DC. During his tenure at the Office of the Corporation Counsel, he handled child abuse and neglect matters, was chief of the Domestic Violence Section, and handled civil litigation in Superior Court and the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

From 1998 to 2002, Judge McCabe was an Assistant United States Attorney with the Office of the United States Attorney in Washington, DC. During his tenure as an Assistant U.S. Attorney, he served in the misdemeanor, felony, appellate, grand jury, and homicide sections.
