What is a disregarded entity?

A disregarded entity is a business entity that is disregarded as a separate entity from its owner for federal income tax purposes or is a Qualified Subchapter S Subsidiary that is not treated as a separate corporation under the Internal Revenue Code.

Who is required to file Form DER-1?

Your disregarded entity is required to file Montana Form DER-1 if the entity is engaged in business in Montana and has Montana source income.

You do not have to file Montana Form DER-1 if your disregarded entity is a single member limited liability company who has as its sole member a full-time Montana resident individual during the reporting period.

What is the due date of Form DER-1 and where do I file it?

Can I obtain an extension for filing Form DER-1?

Yes you can. Your disregarded entity can obtain an automatic extension of time to file Form DER-1 if its owner has an extension. Your extended due date for Form DER-1 is the same as the federal extended due date for its owner. If the owner is not required to file a federal information return, your disregarded entity is allowed an automatic six-month extension to file Form DER-1.

What do I have to include with my Form DER-1?

If your disregarded entity has as its owner a nonresident individual, foreign C corporation or a second-tier pass through entity during its tax year, it needs to include the following with the Form DER-1:

Form PT-AGR, Montana Pass-through Entity Owner Tax Agreement. You are not required to include a new Form PT-AGR each year once the original form has been filed. The original Form PT-AGR remains in effect for subsequent years if the ownership of the disregarded entity remained the same as the previous year. If the ownership of the disregarded entity changes you are required to complete and include a new Form PT-AGR.

Form PT-STM, Montana Second-tier Pass-through Entity Owner Statements. Form PT-STM is required to be filed annually.

Form DER-1, Schedule I, Montana Disregarded Entity Owner Information that identifies the owner or owners of the disregarded entity, and where applicable, the amount withheld from the owner.

I am unable to obtain a signed Form PT-AGR or PT-STM from the owner of the disregarded entity. What do I have to do?

If you are unable to obtain a signed Form PT-AGR from the non-resident individual or foreign C corporation, or Form PT-STM from the second-tier pass-through entity owner of your disregarded entity you are required to withhold tax from the owners share of Montana source income reported on Schedule I, Column D.

If the owner is a foreign C corporation, multiply the foreign C corporation's Montana source income by 6.75% to determine the amount of withholding.

If the owner is a nonresident individual, or a second-tier pass-through entity, multiply the owners Montana source income by 6.9% to determine the amount of withholding.

Upon withholding from the owner's share, the disregarded entity is required to complete Form PT-WH, notifying the owner of the amount of withholding remitted to the State of Montana. The owner may use this amount as an estimated payment against their corporate license tax or individual income tax.

What happens if I am late in filing Form DER-1?

If you file your Form DER-1 late, you will be assessed a late-file penalty. Your penalty is calculated by multiplying $10 times the number of owners at the close of the tax year for each month or fraction of each month the Form DER-1 is not filed, not to exceed five months. For example, a single member limited liability company owned by an S corporation files their Form DER-1 six months after its due date, the late-file penalty would be $50 ($10 x 1 x 5 months). For a disregarded entity that does not have a tax year, the penalty is based on the number of owners on December 31 of the preceding year.

The late-file penalty is not imposed on your disregarded entity if it has 10 or fewer owners, and you can show that each of the owners have filed their required Montana state tax return timely, including any extension, with us and paid their entire tax liability timely.
