

Call for Abstracts

Washington University will host the 2nd Annual Nanotechnology & the Life Sciences 2007. This is a scientific symposium which is supported by the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI) and the National Cancer Institute (NCI) to review progress in the development of nanoscale science tools and their application as nanotechnology for the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of pulmonary and cardiovascular injuries and cancer. It will be held at the Washington University Medical Center in St. Louis, MO, on March 30-31, 2007.

Abstract Submission Information

Interested investigators from universities and industry are invited to submit abstracts on all aspects of nanoscience and nanotechnology. Abstracts for the conference will be selected for oral or poster presentation.

The deadline for electronic submission of abstracts is 5:00 PM, CST, Thursday, February 15th, 2007. To submit your abstract, visit the conference website at www.sccne.wustl.edu

Highlight the presenter among the authors

- Include affiliation
- Limit abstract to NO more than 400 words

Poster Session Location:

Eric. P. Newman Educational Center
320 S. Euclid Avenue
St. Louis, Missouri 63110

1. Poster Size: Total Display Area: 4' x 4'
2. All posters should be put up on March 30th between 7:30-10:30 AM and taken down between 11:00 AM -1:00 PM, on March 31st, 2007.
3. Each poster should have a representative available to explain the research from 11:30 AM -1:30 PM and 5:30 – 7:00 PM on March 30th.
4. All proposals for posters should be sent by February 15, 2007, through the workshop registration website: www.sccne.wustl.edu

Please contact Lynn Coulter (314) 454-8759 if you should have any questions regarding the Nanotechnology & the Life Sciences 2007.