

Curt Sindergard
of Iowa

Curt Sindergard has been a self-employed farmer since 1976 and produces soybeans and corn on his farm in Rolfe, Iowa, with his wife, De. He has been a seed dealer for Dekalb Seeds and Latham Seeds since 1983, and a seed sales representative for Pro Cooperative at the Rolfe location since 1999. Curt obtained training in sales, agronomy and management through Dekalb's premier dealer training.

Mr. Sindergard is the president-elect of the Iowa Soybean Association, a director for the American Soybean Association and a director for Qualisoy. In addition to his leadership roles with many soybean industry organizations including the Pocahontas County Soybean Association, Curt is a member of the National Corn Growers Association, the Iowa Corn Growers Association, Farm Bureau, the Rolfe Economic Development Commission and the Rolfe City Council. A former trustee, Curt presently serves as a deacon for St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
