Request for Public Comments Regarding Exempt Organizations Division Web Site

Announcement 2009–25

Purpose

This Announcement invites public comments on how to improve the Internal Revenue Service's Exempt Organizations Division Web site (www.irs.gov/eo).

Background

The Customer Education and Outreach (CE&O) function of the Exempt Organizations Division (EO), Internal Revenue Service (IRS), is responsible for managing the EO Web site (www.irs.gov/eo). CE&O has found that, as the site has grown, displaying information in a logical and easy-to-use format has become challenging.

In an effort to improve the Web site, the IRS is seeking comments from the public in two specific areas:

- Reorganizing existing information to make it easier to find.
- Adding content that serve the needs of tax-exempt organizations.

The public should consider the following questions when making comments:

- How do you access the irs.gov web site?
 - Type in irs.gov as the URL
 - Via a search engine (Google, Yahoo, etc.)
 - Through a bookmark, favorites, or history view to reach a specific page
 - Do you have another preferred site entry page? If so, what is it?
- How do you find material on the site?
 - Do you use the irs.gov search engine?
 - Do you go directly to the Charities and Non-Profits page to browse?
 - Do you use the Frequently Asked Questions for Exempt Organizations?
 - Do you use any of our Life Cycle pages?

- Do you use the More Topics page?
- Do you use the Charities & Non-Profits Topics listed on the navigation bar at the left side of the page? If not, are there other topics that should be substituted?
- What types of audience or role would be the most helpful to you for organizing information?
 - Level of sophistication (i.e., new organizations and established organizations)
 - Practitioners
 - Managers and executives
 - Types of tax-exempt organizations
- What do you come to the irs.gov website to do?
 - Find general information on staying tax-exempt
 - Find a specific publication or brochure
 - Find step-by-step filing instructions
- What topics or type of content should be available to suit your needs?
- Do you subscribe to the EO Update electronic newsletter? If not, why? If so:
 - How did you learn about it?
 - How can we expand our readership?
 - What other content should be included?

Request for Public Comments on New Academic Institution Initiative

Announcement 2009–26

The Customer Education and Outreach (CE&O) function of the Exempt Organizations division of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) was established in 2000 to develop the strategic direction of the nationwide education and outreach programs for exempt organizations. Specifically, this office develops and delivers programs and products designed to assist exempt organizations to better understand their tax responsibilities that are required by the Internal Revenue Code.

Many academic institutions offer degree programs that develop, cultivate, and promote professionals who shape the exempt organization sector. The student populations of these academic institutions may one day be the leaders and managers of the exempt organizations that makeup the non-profit sector. Hence, CE&O believes that the students of these academic institutions are an important audience to reach with education and outreach programs.

Therefore, CE&O is in the process of developing a new academic program initiative that will reach out directly to academic institutions that offer degrees related to the non-profit sector. Through the use of our existing tools and the possible development of additional resources, CE&O proposes to collaborate with these institutions to promote the education of exempt organization tax law.

The IRS invites comments and suggestions for the implementation and content of the proposed initiative. First, the IRS is requesting general responses to this initiative. Second, the IRS is seeking individuals and/or institution volunteers willing to provide more extensive input into and feedback on the proposed initiative. While the IRS might not be able to accommodate all volunteers, it will take steps to ensure that a diverse range of viewpoints are represented.

The IRS invites interested members of the public to submit written suggestions to help shape this initiative. All submissions will be available for public inspection and copying in their entirety. Members of the public may submit suggestions or drafts by email, mail, or hand-delivery. All comments should refer to Announcement 2009-26, and may be mailed to:

Deletions From Cumulative List of Organizations Contributions to Which are Deductible Under Section 170 of the Code

Announcement 2009-27

The Internal Revenue Service has revoked its determination that the organizations listed below qualify as organizations described in sections 501(c)(3) and 170(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

Generally, the Service will not disallow deductions for contributions made to a listed organization on or before the date of announcement in the Internal Revenue Bulletin that an organization no longer qualifies. However, the Service is not precluded from disallowing a deduction for any contributions made after an organization ceases to qualify under section 170(c)(2) if the organization has not timely filed a suit for declaratory judgment under section 7428 and if the contributor (1) had knowledge of the revocation of the ruling or determination letter, (2) was aware that such revocation was imminent, or (3) was in part responsible for or was aware of the activities or omissions of the organization that brought about this revocation.

If on the other hand a suit for declaratory judgment has been timely filed, contributions from individuals and organizations described in section 170(c)(2) that are otherwise allowable will continue to be deductible. Protection under section 7428(c) would begin on April 6, 2009, and would end on the date the court first determines that the organization is not described in section 170(c)(2) as more particularly set forth in section 7428(c)(1). For individual contributors, the maximum deduction protected is $1,000, with a husband and wife treated as one contributor. This benefit is not extended to any individual, in whole or in part, for the acts or omissions of the organization that were the basis for revocation.
