NREL Executive Energy Leadership Program

2009 Application

The National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) Executive Energy Leadership Program, Energy Execs, advances the understanding of renewable energy and energy efficiency technologies and applications by a core group of professionals in Colorado. The program includes six one day sessions over six months. Each session will address a specific technology designed for students with a non-technical background. Classroom sessions will be enhanced by laboratory tours and field trips. Participants prepare a project that could be implemented by their organization.

Selection Criteria:

- Ability to influence energy discussions in organization or community
- Assurance of attendance at classes
- Commitment to prepare a project
- Responsible for travel costs to and from class

This program is not intended for vendors or purveyors of energy services.

2009 Program Dates:

May 29, June 26, July 31, August 21, September 25, and October 30

Application Process:

Complete this application and fax or mail to NREL by March 18.
